The Motorman Jumped.

CONDUCTOR STAID WITH CAR

And three persons, the motorman, the conductor and a passenger, can thank God that the runaway of a street car on the Calcutta road this afternoon did not result in their death or maiming.

The car in question left the Grandview terminus, bound for down town, at 1:30 this afternoon. As it reached a point just below Wall street, Motorman George Hales found that she was beyond his control and running away. He used every effort to stop her, found that it was impossible to do so, and jumped, fortunately sustaining no injury. There was a solitary passenger, a young man, on the rear end, and as soon as he appreciated the fact that the car was beyond the control of the motorman and conductor, he alighted without ceremony and without ringing the bell.

Conductor Joseph Davis was on the rear end, and he reached the conclusion, as he informed the writer, that the safest thing he could do was to remain with the car, which he did, and braced himself for the shock of the halt.

The car struck the acute curve, going at a fearful speed, and left the rails at almost the identical point at which the former runaway speeded to destruction. The patent safety device was left, as usual, at the curb. A small building had just been erected and completed yesterday in front of the house owned by Mrs. Sophia Wucherer, and this structure was knocked into a cocked hat and the fragments sent whirling over the adjacent hillside, the car crashing into the corner of Mrs. Wucherer's property, entering the domicile with the western side of the vehicle some four feet, shattering the front end and destroying every pane of glass in the car. Had George Hales stuck to his post, there exists no doubt in our mind, after a careful investigation of the situation, that he would have met his death.

Conductor Davis was considerably shaken up in his position on the rear platform, but he assured us that he sustained no injury.

The accident was almost a repetition of the late disastrous runaway, save that there were no fatal results.

An outsider, a reliable gentleman, tells us that when Motorman Hales consented to accept the dangerous berth, he made the promise to himself, repeating the decision to a friend, that in case of a runaway he would never accompany his car when it concluded to invade private residences without permission. If this be true, it shows that George Hales' head is level and that he acted wisely and well. It is all right to stick to the post of duty when the lives of passengers are in peril; but when a man's life is measured against property, the property can take a back seat.

mand that there shall be no more trifling with life. If a street car is liable to speed on a road that leads to death whenever it rains heavily, snows lightly, or freezes a sleet, it is high time to call a halt until it is demonstrated that proper precautionary measures have been taken and that the said car can be held under control in any emergency.

CHESTER RESIDENTS.

They Know That a Bill Has Been Introduced in the Legislature.

Chester, W. Va., Jan. 19, 1901.

Editor News Review—With your approval the good citizens of Chester would like through your columns to make reply to a statement which was made in your edition of the 18th by James McDonald in regard to the application for a charter for our town of Chester. He seems to think we have been unduly exercised over the matter, and that some one is trying to get some cheap notoriety. Mr. McDonald stated that they had never applied to the legislature of our state for a charter, but that the census was being taken in order to apply to our circuit court for such a charter. How does it come if they didn't apply for a charter providing for a vote of the people on the license question that such a bill as noted in the following from the Commercial Gazette of January 18 was introduced:

Such denial seems very strange. We do not object to the incorporation, but we do object to any form of charter which makes the saloon possible or impossible or submits the question to a popular vote in the future. The idea that no such move is on foot seems very absurd to the intelligent people of Chester. We make no pretence to more than ordinary intelligence, nor to be politicians, but notwithstanding the denial of Mr. McDonald, we have had a perfect knowledge for some time that this action was contemplated, and it was no surprise to us.

And so far as cheap notoriety is concerned we are glad that it is not just two or three, but that it takes in all our town, almost unanimously, as shown by their protest signed to a petition containing almost three hundred names. We glory in such notoriety when we are in the right, on the side of God and temperance, the uplifting of our fellow man and the purity of our town.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE.

The circle met last night at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Bailey, East Market street. Mrs. Dr. Trimmer read an excellent paper on the "Iliad." Mrs. Bailey delighted those present with a paper on "Schleiman and his excavations at Troy." Mr. T. B. Mackey gave a resume on "Greek Mythology." The general discussion, questions and answers, were of unusual interest and were highly enjoyed. It is the verdict of the membership that the interest in the circle is growing apace. The next meeting will be at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Trimmer, Fifth street.

An Opinion From Prosecuting Attorney

In Regard to the Recent Decennial Land Appraisalment In This City.

A short time ago Commissioner J. H. French asked Prosecuting Attorney Brookes for an opinion on the decennial land appraisalment in this city. The opinion is as follows:

Lisbon, Jan. 16, 1901.

J. H. French, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Lisbon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of January 14 in relation to the decennial appraisalment in the city of East Liverpool, and asking for my interpretation of the law governing the annual city board of equalization, with a view to ascertaining what, if any, relief owners of real estate in the city may obtain from the board.

Some considerable misinformation has been circulated in regard to the decennial appraisalment in the city in question, the result of which is that the general public has received the impression that the real estate of the city, as a whole, has been grossly overvalued by the land appraiser. It is true, as you know, a very decided increase in the city valuation was made by the land appraiser; an increase much more decided than that shown in the other cities and towns in the county. This fact, however, does not prove that the aggregate value of the city is too large, but rather that the aggregate valuation of other cities and towns in the county is too small. The main cause of complaint, however, lies in the fact that the appraisalment has not been equally and equitably made in this city, and that the burden lies unfairly upon the owners of property. While this was originally the fault of the land appraiser and while the large valuation of the city, as a whole, must be laid at his door, the decennial board of equalization appointed by the city council, and with full authority to equalize and adjust the mistakes of the land appraiser, must now share the responsibility with him, for although the decennial board did not have the right to reduce the sum total of the appraisalment returned by the land appraiser, it did have the right to equalize it, and do full justice in the matter to all property holders. A careful examination of the books of valuation returned by the decennial board will satisfy the inquirer that this board fell far short of accomplishing that for which it was intended.

The most valuable business property in the city has been returned at ridiculously low figures, and lots and residences have been left at figures relatively much too high. In some instances the extremely low figures of the land appraiser on business blocks in the center of the city were still further reduced by the decennial board, without reasonable excuse as far as can be seen. To summarize, an unjust share of the burden of taxation has been placed upon the owners of individual homes and taken off valuable business property where it ought to rest, and where it could be most easily paid.

The result is that unless relieved by the annual city board in the manner hereinafter indicated, the burden of taxes in this city for the next ten years must be paid to an unfair extent by the poorer people thereof.

In your letter you inquire whether a remedy can be found for this unfortunate condition of affairs, and I am glad to say that, in a large measure, in my judgment, it can be.

The city annual board of equalization must be looked to, to grant relief. It has the right and power to do that which the decennial board has failed to do, to-wit: To equalize values and require all real estate to bear the burden of taxation in proportion to its value. Section 2805 Revised Statutes of Ohio, provides:

"In each city of the first and second class there shall be an annual board for the equalization of the value of real and personal property, moneys on credits in such city, to be composed of the county auditor and six citizens of such city. * * * Said boards shall have all the powers, and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in the next preceding section, for the annual county board; each member of said board is authorized to administer oaths, and said board is empowered to call persons before them, and examine them, under oath, in regard to their own, or others' property, moneys, credits and investments, and the value thereof, and to equalize the value of real and personal property, moneys, credits and investments within such cities. * * *

And to increase the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have in their judgment been listed at less than their true value in money, and to reduce the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have been appraised above their true value in money, and shall annually meet at the office of the county auditor on the fourth Monday in May."

Section 2806 provides: "The county auditor shall lay before each of the above named boards, for the territory they respectively have jurisdiction over, the returns of the assessors for the current year, and such returns as are required to be made to the county auditor, as is provided in Section 2744, and also the valuation of the real estate as the same was entered upon the duplicate of the preceding year, or as fixed by the state board of equalization with such maps, returns, lists, abstracts and other papers that may be in the auditor's office pertinent to their duties, and each of said boards shall keep a regular journal of its proceedings which shall be deposited with the auditor."

Now it will be observed from Section 2805 that the annual city board of equalization shall have all the powers and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in Section 2804 for the annual county board.

Looking, then, to Section 2804 to ascertain what these powers, rules, provisions and limitations are we find it provided:

SPRING PRIMARIES TO BE HELD EARLY

Candidates For Office Are Getting Ready to Begin Their Work Of

CANVASSING THE COUNTY

They All Seem to Favor an Early Primary and the Voting Day Will

BE FIXED TO SUIT THEM

It has almost reached the season of the year when the county candidate puts on his ulster and gum boots and prepares to merge forth in all his glory to hustle for votes.

There will be plenty of candidates in the race this year for nomination on the Republican ticket, and the indications are that the fight will be short and sweet, as a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and as they are most interested, the county executive committee always sets the date to suit a majority of them.

The late primary was tried once, but did not prove a success, as the warm weather seemed to have a damaging influence on the voters and they failed to turn out. The candidates this year will undoubtedly urge that the primary be held the latter part of March, or not later than the first part of April.

A number of candidates who have been consulted state that they would like to have the date fixed some time between the 1st and 10th of April, and it is probable this will be the time fixed.

This will give all the candidates a chance to get over the county at least twice and it will not drag the canvass out over several months.

MRS. JOHNSON

SECURED POSSESSION OF HER

Her Husband, James Johnson, Makes a Statement in Regard to the Matter.

On last Thursday while Mrs. James Johnson, of this city, was visiting her sister in New Cumberland she saw her six-year-old son, Willie McElfresh, on the street and picked him up and carried him across the river to Freeman's station. She learned after crossing the river that the grandfather was in pursuit and she walked from there to Empire with the child and boarded the train for her home in this city.

Mrs. Johnson was granted a divorce from John McElfresh some time ago and was given the custody of her three minor children, as the court records will show. When the parties separated the mother was taken ill and she let the father take the little boy. After the divorce was granted the father refused repeatedly to let the mother see her boy, and this is the reason she took the action she did.

Mr. Johnson called at this office this morning and stated that the action of his wife was taken after she had consulted attorneys in this city and New Cumberland, and that she now has possession of the child and proposes to keep him.

An Opinion From Prosecuting Attorney

In Regard to the Recent Decennial Land Appraisalment In This City.

A short time ago Commissioner J. H. French asked Prosecuting Attorney Brookes for an opinion on the decennial land appraisalment in this city. The opinion is as follows:

Lisbon, Jan. 16, 1901.

J. H. French, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Lisbon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of January 14 in relation to the decennial appraisalment in the city of East Liverpool, and asking for my interpretation of the law governing the annual city board of equalization, with a view to ascertaining what, if any, relief owners of real estate in the city may obtain from the board.

The circle met last night at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Bailey, East Market street. Mrs. Dr. Trimmer read an excellent paper on the "Iliad." Mrs. Bailey delighted those present with a paper on "Schleiman and his excavations at Troy." Mr. T. B. Mackey gave a resume on "Greek Mythology." The general discussion, questions and answers, were of unusual interest and were highly enjoyed. It is the verdict of the membership that the interest in the circle is growing apace. The next meeting will be at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Trimmer, Fifth street.

An Opinion From Prosecuting Attorney

In Regard to the Recent Decennial Land Appraisalment In This City.

A short time ago Commissioner J. H. French asked Prosecuting Attorney Brookes for an opinion on the decennial land appraisalment in this city. The opinion is as follows:

Lisbon, Jan. 16, 1901.

J. H. French, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Lisbon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of January 14 in relation to the decennial appraisalment in the city of East Liverpool, and asking for my interpretation of the law governing the annual city board of equalization, with a view to ascertaining what, if any, relief owners of real estate in the city may obtain from the board.

Some considerable misinformation has been circulated in regard to the decennial appraisalment in the city in question, the result of which is that the general public has received the impression that the real estate of the city, as a whole, has been grossly overvalued by the land appraiser. It is true, as you know, a very decided increase in the city valuation was made by the land appraiser; an increase much more decided than that shown in the other cities and towns in the county. This fact, however, does not prove that the aggregate value of the city is too large, but rather that the aggregate valuation of other cities and towns in the county is too small. The main cause of complaint, however, lies in the fact that the appraisalment has not been equally and equitably made in this city, and that the burden lies unfairly upon the owners of property. While this was originally the fault of the land appraiser and while the large valuation of the city, as a whole, must be laid at his door, the decennial board of equalization appointed by the city council, and with full authority to equalize and adjust the mistakes of the land appraiser, must now share the responsibility with him, for although the decennial board did not have the right to reduce the sum total of the appraisalment returned by the land appraiser, it did have the right to equalize it, and do full justice in the matter to all property holders. A careful examination of the books of valuation returned by the decennial board will satisfy the inquirer that this board fell far short of accomplishing that for which it was intended.

The most valuable business property in the city has been returned at ridiculously low figures, and lots and residences have been left at figures relatively much too high. In some instances the extremely low figures of the land appraiser on business blocks in the center of the city were still further reduced by the decennial board, without reasonable excuse as far as can be seen. To summarize, an unjust share of the burden of taxation has been placed upon the owners of individual homes and taken off valuable business property where it ought to rest, and where it could be most easily paid.

The result is that unless relieved by the annual city board in the manner hereinafter indicated, the burden of taxes in this city for the next ten years must be paid to an unfair extent by the poorer people thereof.

In your letter you inquire whether a remedy can be found for this unfortunate condition of affairs, and I am glad to say that, in a large measure, in my judgment, it can be.

The city annual board of equalization must be looked to, to grant relief. It has the right and power to do that which the decennial board has failed to do, to-wit: To equalize values and require all real estate to bear the burden of taxation in proportion to its value. Section 2805 Revised Statutes of Ohio, provides:

"In each city of the first and second class there shall be an annual board for the equalization of the value of real and personal property, moneys on credits in such city, to be composed of the county auditor and six citizens of such city. * * * Said boards shall have all the powers, and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in the next preceding section, for the annual county board; each member of said board is authorized to administer oaths, and said board is empowered to call persons before them, and examine them, under oath, in regard to their own, or others' property, moneys, credits and investments, and the value thereof, and to equalize the value of real and personal property, moneys, credits and investments within such cities. * * * And to increase the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have in their judgment been listed at less than their true value in money, and to reduce the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have been appraised above their true value in money, and shall annually meet at the office of the county auditor on the fourth Monday in May."

Section 2806 provides: "The county auditor shall lay before each of the above named boards, for the territory they respectively have jurisdiction over, the returns of the assessors for the current year, and such returns as are required to be made to the county auditor, as is provided in Section 2744, and also the valuation of the real estate as the same was entered upon the duplicate of the preceding year, or as fixed by the state board of equalization with such maps, returns, lists, abstracts and other papers that may be in the auditor's office pertinent to their duties, and each of said boards shall keep a regular journal of its proceedings which shall be deposited with the auditor."

Now it will be observed from Section 2805 that the annual city board of equalization shall have all the powers and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in Section 2804 for the annual county board.

Looking, then, to Section 2804 to ascertain what these powers, rules, provisions and limitations are we find it provided:

Candidates For Office Are Getting Ready to Begin Their Work Of

They All Seem to Favor an Early Primary and the Voting Day Will

BE FIXED TO SUIT THEM

It has almost reached the season of the year when the county candidate puts on his ulster and gum boots and prepares to merge forth in all his glory to hustle for votes.

There will be plenty of candidates in the race this year for nomination on the Republican ticket, and the indications are that the fight will be short and sweet, as a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and as they are most interested, the county executive committee always sets the date to suit a majority of them.

The late primary was tried once, but did not prove a success, as the warm weather seemed to have a damaging influence on the voters and they failed to turn out. The candidates this year will undoubtedly urge that the primary be held the latter part of March, or not later than the first part of April.

A number of candidates who have been consulted state that they would like to have the date fixed some time between the 1st and 10th of April, and it is probable this will be the time fixed.

This will give all the candidates a chance to get over the county at least twice and it will not drag the canvass out over several months.

SECURED POSSESSION OF HER CHILD AT CUMBERLAND.

Her Husband, James Johnson, Makes a Statement in Regard to the Matter.

On last Thursday while Mrs. James Johnson, of this city, was visiting her sister in New Cumberland she saw her six-year-old son, Willie McElfresh, on the street and picked him up and carried him across the river to Freeman's station. She learned after crossing the river that the grandfather was in pursuit and she walked from there to Empire with the child and boarded the train for her home in this city.

Mrs. Johnson was granted a divorce from John McElfresh some time ago and was given the custody of her three minor children, as the court records will show. When the parties separated the mother was taken ill and she let the father take the little boy. After the divorce was granted the father refused repeatedly to let the mother see her boy, and this is the reason she took the action she did.

Mr. Johnson called at this office this morning and stated that the action of his wife was taken after she had consulted attorneys in this city and New Cumberland, and that she now has possession of the child and proposes to keep him.

PRESIDENT.

THEODORE PRYOR HAS BEEN PAROLED

The Man Who Killed a Negro
Deckhand In This City Is Released From

THE MANSFIELD REFORMATORY

The Crime Was Committed In 1898 While the Ben Hur
Was Tied In Here.

TWO OTHER LIVERPOOL PAROLES

Before closing their session this morning the Ohio reformatory managers unanimously elected Prof. James
A. Leonard, of Youngstown, O., to be superintendent of the reformatory to succeed Superintendent Sefton, whose resignation takes effect February 15.
Prof. Leonard has resided at Youngstown for some years, where as a young man he worked as an employee of the rolling mills. He was graduated from Mt. Union college, Alliance, and was principal in one of the Youngstown schools for some years.
Later he was an inspector of the government schools for Indians and in recent years has been in charge of the Rayen training school in Youngstown.
He is about 45 years of age and has a wife and two daughters. He is a member of the Methodist church and is an ordained local minister in that church.

The board considered a number of other matters in connection with the institution, among them the feasibility of making a reduction of expenses. To this end it was decided that when the board's contract with L. S. Lake,
the farm superintendent, expires the salary of that position shall be reduced from $1,000 to $600 per year.

It was also decided to abolish the office of superintendent of grounds,
a position which has been filled by Guard George W. Batton, who has been connected with the institution almost continuously since the time it was opened. It is also said the managers have concluded to reduce the number of guards by six or more, so that the total annual reduction of expenses will be about $8,000 a year.

The following prisoners were paroled:

Theodore Pryor (conditional), Columbiana county, manslaughter; Jas.
M. Hollen, Hamilton county, burglary
and larceny; John Berry, Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny, paroled
August 2, 1899, returned January 1900;
William Carroll, Cuyahoga county,
robbery; Charles Nelson, Columbiana county, burglary, attempted to escape
September 18, 1899; Edward Hausel-man, Columbiana county, burglary, attempted to escape September 18, 1899;
James Boone, Butler county, cutting
to wound; Charles Baldwin, Pickaway county, burglary and larceny; Frank Peterson (conditional), Cuyahoga county, forgery; Jacob Weinstein,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; Meyer Rosenthal, Cuyahoga county, horse stealing; Frank Lenz,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; George Tims, Hamilton county,
forgery; Sanford Webb, Scioto county, cutting to wound; Harley Foltz,
Stark county, burglary and larceny;
James Campbell (conditional), Stark
county, burglary; John Wilson, Portage county, burglary; James Youtsey,
Van Wert county, burglary and larceny; Walton Brown, Montgomery
county, burglary; Charles Moore,
Licking county, manslaughter; Robert Clifford (conditional), Mahoning count, burglary; Louis Kirtley (conditional), Mahoning county, grand larceny; Emmett Smith, Wood county,
burglary and larceny, escaped January
10, 1898, returned April 25, 1898;
George Carrier, Franklin county, burglary and larceny, paroled October 20,

Questions for Women

Do you have periodical pains? Do you have frequent backaches? Are you nervous? Are you continually exhausted? Do you suffer every month? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions you are suffering from ills which Wine of Cardui cures.
Do you appreciate what perfect health would be to you? After taking Wine of Cardui, thousands like you have realized it. Wine of Cardui insures freedom from female diseases. At each recurring menstrual period, if care be not taken, slight ailments will appear.
Nervous strain, loss of sleep, cold or indigestion start disorders which are not noticeable at first, but day by day steadily grow into troublesome complications. Wine of Cardui, used just before the menstrual period, will keep the female system in perfect condition and render it invulnerable to disease. The medicine is taken quietly at home. There is nothing like it to help women enjoy good health. Wine of Cardui costs only $1. Test this remedy, which is indorsed by 1,000,000 cured women.

WINE OF CARDUI

Cairo, Ky., Sept. 6, 1899.

I take pleasure in writing a few lines in praise of your wonderful medicine, Wine of Cardui. It is the best medicine I ever heard of. I am thirty-six years old and have been sick all my life.
I had a dozen doctors, but none of them did me any good. I have taken one bottle of Wine of Cardui and will take another with Black-Draught. I have been married six years and have a baby five years old. I had womb and kidney trouble. My monthly period was so bad that sometimes it came twice a month. I was too sick to do work for a family of three. I was in bed when I got the bottle of Wine of Cardui. Now I am up and can do most of my work. When I was sick I could not sleep at night. I sleep well at night now. A friend of mine advised me to use Black-Draught with Wine of Cardui.

The three prisoners from Columbiana county who were paroled all came from this city.

Theodore Pryor was sent up for killing Thomas Kelso, alias Henry Clark,
a deck hand on the Ben Hur. When the boat tied in at this port Pryor
hit Clark over the head with a club, killing him instantly.

Edward Hanselman and Charles
Nelson were implicated in numerous burglaries in this city.

The Man Who Killed a Negro
Deckhand In This City Is Released From

1898 While the Ben Hur
Was Tied In Here.

TWO OTHER LIVERPOOL PAROLES

Before closing their session this morning the Ohio reformatory managers unanimously elected Prof. James
A. Leonard, of Youngstown, O., to be superintendent of the reformatory to succeed Superintendent Sefton, whose
resignation takes effect February 15.
Prof. Leonard has resided at Youngstown for some years, where as a young man he worked as an employe of the rolling mills. He was graduated from Mt. Union college, Alliance,
and was principal in one of the Youngstown schools for some years.
Later he was an inspector of the government schools for Indians and in recent years has been in charge of the Rayen training school in Youngstown.
He is about 45 years of age and has a wife and two daughters. He is a member of the Methodist church and is an ordained local minister in that church.

The board considered a number of other matters in connection with the institution, among them the feasibility
of making a reduction of expenses. To this end it was decided that when
the board's contract with L. S. Lake,
the farm superintendent, expires the
salary of that position shall be reduced
from $1,000 to $600 per year.

It was also decided to abolish the office of superintendent of grounds,
a position which has been filled by Guard George W. Batton, who has been connected with the institution almost continuously since the time it was
have concluded to reduce the number
of guards by six or more, so that the total annual reduction of expenses will
be about $8,000 a year.

The following prisoners were pa-
roled:

Theodore Pryor (conditional), Co-
lumbiana county, manslaughter; Jas.
M. Hollen, Hamilton county, burglary
and larceny; John Berry, Cuyahoga
county, burglary and larceny, paroled
August 2, 1899, returned January 1900;
William Carroll, Cuyahoga county,
robbery; Charles Nelson, Columbiana
September 18, 1899; Edward Hausel-
man, Columbiana county, burglary, attempted to escape September 18, 1899;
James Boone, Butler county, cutting
to wound; Charles Baldwin, Pickaway
county, burglary and larceny; Frank Peterson (conditional), Cuyahoga
county, forgery; Jacob Weinstein,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; Meyer Rosenthal, Cuyahoga
county, horse stealing; Frank Lenz,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; George Tims, Hamilton county,
forgery; Sanford Webb, Scioto county, cutting to wound; Harley Foltz,
Stark county, burglary and larceny;
James Campbell (conditional), Stark
county, burglary; John Wilson, Port-
age county, burglary; James Youtsey,
Van Wert county, burglary and larceny; Walton Brown, Montgomery
county, burglary; Charles Moore,
Licking county, manslaughter; Robert Clifford (conditional), Mahoning
count, burglary; Louis Kirtley (conditional), Mahoning county, grand larceny; Emmett Smith, Wood county,
burglary and larceny, escaped January
10, 1898, returned April 25, 1898;
George Carrier, Franklin county, burglary and larceny, paroled October 20,

Questions for Women

Do you have periodical pains? Do you have frequent backaches? Are you nervous? Are you continually exhausted? Do you suffer every month? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions you are suffering from ills which Wine of Cardui cures.
Do you appreciate what perfect health would be to you? After taking Wine of Cardui, thousands like you have realized it. Wine of Cardui insures freedom from female diseases. At each recurring menstrual period, if care be not taken, slight ailments will appear.
Nervous strain, loss of sleep, cold or indigestion start disorders
which are not noticeable at first, but day by day steadily grow into troublesome complications. Wine of Cardui, used just before the menstrual period, will keep the female system in perfect condition and render it invulnerable to disease. The medicine is taken quietly at home. There is nothing like it to help women enjoy good health. Wine of Cardui costs only $1. Test this remedy, which is indorsed by 1,000,000 cured women.

WINE OF CARDUI

Cairo, Ky., Sept. 6, 1899.

I take pleasure in writing a few lines in praise of your wonderful medicine, Wine of Cardui. It is the best medicine I ever heard of. I am thirty-six years old and have been sick all my life.
I had a dozen doctors, but none of them did me any good. I have taken one bottle of Wine of Cardui and will take another with Black-Draught. I have been married six years and have a baby five years old. I had womb and kidney trouble. My monthly period was so bad that sometimes it came twice a month. I was too sick to do work for a family of three. I was in bed when I got the bottle of Wine of Cardui. Now I am up and can do most of my work. When I was sick I could not sleep at night. I sleep
Draught with Wine of Cardui.

The three prisoners from Columbiana county who were paroled all came
from this city.

ing Thomas Kelso, alias Henry Clark,
a deck hand on the Ben Hur. When
the boat tied in at this port Pryor
hit Clark over the head with a club,
killing him instantly.

Edward Hanselman and Charles
Nelson were implicated in numerous
burglaries in this city.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1900.

INGRATITUDE.

Base ingratitude is one of the very meanest and abhorrent characteristics in the human makeup. The man who robs his friend is utterly unworthy of the name of man. The viper, you know, stung the hand that rescued it from death and warmed it back into life.

WEST POINT.

The closer the lines are drawn about the witnesses in connection with hazing at West Point, the more outrageous appears the conduct of the young fellows who took part therein. The nation at large will stand back of the officials who are investigating the matter, and will demand that justice be done.

COMMON DRUNKS.

And they are becoming very common in this city of East Liverpool. Two blackguards, so drunk that they could scarcely stand, made themselves conspicuous last night at the corner of Washington and Broadway, and the language they openly made use of was simply abominable.

KENTUCKY.

The dark and bloody ground of Kentucky still keeps up its record of mob law and rioting. It is high time that a stop shall be put to such disgraceful proceedings. If the state authorities will not or cannot control the ruffians who appeal to the shotgun and dynamite policy, then the federal authorities should step in, and the officers and soldiers of the regular army be given instructions to let the toughs have a surfeit of shooting. Lawlessness and crime may be taught a lasting lesson in this great republic.

OUR CIRCULATION.

The circulation of the News Review is constantly growing. And the best of all is that it is voluntary growth on the part of our subscribers, and is a paid circulation, the proprietor receiving cash in hand every night for the same from his agents. The raw paper, wholesale, costs a purchaser about 20 cents a hundred. And yet there is a sheet in this city which advertises its old papers at 5 cents a hundred; papers printed, ready for the readers, if they want to read it. And this comes under the head of what some people term circulation. Peculiar circulation, is it not? Evidence of a weakly paper.

NEVER SAY DIE.

A righteous cause need never despair. God stands back of the right always, ready to come to the aid and relief of the people, when that people demonstrates the fact that they "hunger and thirst after righteousness." The saloons at Manila have not been closed. The masses in this nation are not ready for them to close. The saloons on this side of the ocean have not yet been closed. The people are not yet ready to have them closed. Please God, the time is not far distant when they will be closed. That time will come when politicians face an outraged public, and go down to utter and ignominious defeat; when they recognize the fact that no whisky advocate or backer can have an office as the gift of the people. We must rise to the emergency. God's wrath will speak out against this nation if it does not rise and destroy the whisky and rum traffic.

A FAIR DEAL.

A fair and square deal, in your business transactions with your fellows, pays every time. Falsehood, chicanery and low cunning may seemingly win; but the hand of justice and right will grasp the throat of the trickster, cheat and falsifier and make him cry out in despair. Say swindler, do not imagine that you will prove any exception to the rule. A stern Nemesis is on your trail. You would better repent ere disgrace fastens upon your life, and destroys you in time and in eternity.

THE ARMY BILL.

The army bill passed, as expected. We would not dare, as patriots and lovers of country, to go back on our boys in the Philippines. Humanity demands that the rebellion in Luzon shall be crushed out. Under the rule of the United States, the Filipinos will be immeasurably better off than if they were permitted to attempt self government. Spanish rule, with all its cruelty and blood thirstiness, would be as child's play were Aguinaldo and his savage Tagalos permitted to have supreme control of the islands. And every student of history, combined with every man and woman of good sense, able to read and reason, knows that if the United States were to give up the Philippines, and leave the Filipinos to themselves, that some one of the other nations would step in and assume control and ownership. It is the bounden duty of the government of the United States to hold her grip in the Philippines; and it is the bounden duty of this government to throttle and wipe out the saloon and the liquor traffic in the Philippines; and may our God speed the day.

OUR JOB OFFICE.

Our job office is running to the limit, keeping our boys hustling. Good work and good material, and courteous treatment, and goods on deck when promised, tells the story of our success. The unionists of this city, men who are unionists from the standpoint of principle, are believers in fair play; and they know that the manager of this paper is a life-long unionist, always ready to give and take, and ready to counsel and advise with fair men and true unionists; and the best and truest unionists in this city, men who have been connected with the printing craft for long years, will testify, in open court, or before any union body, that so-called union men in this city, men posing as leaders of unionism, have acted in an outrageous, unholy and ungrateful manner with the manager of this paper, until he has been compelled, from a business standpoint and in self-defense, to clear the deck and enforce discipline, and block out incompetency, shiftlessness and laziness. This testimony can be adduced at any time. If you want first-class job work, at reasonable prices, turned out by unionists from center to circumference, men who show by their work and actions that they believe in a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, call at the News Review office and leave your orders. If any politician in this county fears to get his cards printed at this office, let that politician ask the officials of the Republican executive committee of Columbiana county what they think of the honesty and veracity of the man who is circulating the report that the News Review is an unfair office; and then come and see Manager Palmer, and he will give you indisputable proof that the delectable individual referred to is a falsifier of the meanest and lowest grade, and that the News Review is a full union office, in every particular, without the shadow of reproach against its unionism.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1900.

INGRATITUDE.

Base ingratitude is one of the very meanest and abhorrent characteristics in the human makeup. The man who robs his friend is utterly unworthy of the name of man. The viper, you know, stung the hand that rescued it from death and warmed it back into life.

WEST POINT.

The closer the lines are drawn about the witnesses in connection with hazing at West Point, the more outrageous appears the conduct of the young fellows who took part therein. The nation at large will stand back of the officials who are investigating the matter, and will demand that justice be done.

COMMON DRUNKS.

And they are becoming very common in this city of East Liverpool. Two blackguards, so drunk that they could scarcely stand, made themselves conspicuous last night at the corner of Washington and Broadway, and the language they openly made use of was simply abominable.

KENTUCKY.

The dark and bloody ground of Kentucky still keeps up its record of mob law and rioting. It is high time that a stop shall be put to such disgraceful proceedings. If the state authorities will not or cannot control the ruffians who appeal to the shotgun and dynamite policy, then the federal authorities should step in, and the officers and soldiers of the regular army be given instructions to let the toughs have a surfeit of shooting. Lawlessness and crime may be taught a lasting lesson in this great republic.

OUR CIRCULATION.

The circulation of the News Review is constantly growing. And the best of all is that it is voluntary growth on the part of our subscribers, and is a paid circulation, the proprietor receiving cash in hand every night for the same from his agents. The raw paper, wholesale, costs a purchaser about 20 cents a hundred. And yet there is a sheet in this city which advertises its old papers at 5 cents a hundred; papers printed, ready for the readers, if they want to read it. And this comes under the head of what some people term circulation. Peculiar circulation, is it not? Evidence of a weakly paper.

NEVER SAY DIE.

A righteous cause need never despair. God stands back of the right always, ready to come to the aid and relief of the people, when that people demonstrates the fact that they "hunger and thirst after righteousness." The saloons at Manila have not been closed. The masses in this nation are not ready for them to close. The saloons on this side of the ocean have not yet been closed. The people are not yet ready to have them closed. Please God, the time is not far distant when they will be closed. That time will come when politicians face an outraged public, and go down to utter and ignominious defeat; when they recognize the fact that no whisky advocate or backer can have an office as the gift of the people. We must rise to the emergency. God's wrath will speak out against this nation if it does not rise and destroy the whisky and rum traffic.

A FAIR DEAL.

A fair and square deal, in your business transactions with your fellows, pays every time. Falsehood, chicanery and low cunning may seemingly win; but the hand of justice and right will grasp the throat of the trickster, cheat and falsifier and make him cry out in despair. Say swindler, do not imagine that you will prove any exception to the rule. A stern Nemesis is on your trail. You would better repent ere disgrace fastens upon your life, and destroys you in time and in eternity.

THE ARMY BILL.

The army bill passed, as expected. We would not dare, as patriots and lovers of country, to go back on our boys in the Philippines. Humanity demands that the rebellion in Luzon shall be crushed out. Under the rule of the United States, the Filipinos will be immeasurably better off than if they were permitted to attempt self government. Spanish rule, with all its cruelty and blood thirstiness, would be as child's play were Aguinaldo and his savage Tagalos permitted to have supreme control of the islands. And every student of history, combined with every man and woman of good sense, able to read and reason, knows that if the United States were to give up the Philippines, and leave the Filipinos to themselves, that some one of the other nations would step in and assume control and ownership. It is the bounden duty of the government of the United States to hold her grip in the Philippines; and it is the bounden duty of this government to throttle and wipe out the saloon and the liquor traffic in the Philippines; and may our God speed the day.

OUR JOB OFFICE.

Our job office is running to the limit, keeping our boys hustling. Good work and good material, and courteous treatment, and goods on deck when promised, tells the story of our success. The unionists of this city, men who are unionists from the standpoint of principle, are believers in fair play; and they know that the manager of this paper is a life-long unionist, always ready to give and take, and ready to counsel and advise with fair men and true unionists; and the best and truest unionists in this city, men who have been connected with the printing craft for long years, will testify, in open court, or before any union body, that so-called union

A MID-WINTER CAMPMEETING

The Services at the Salvation Army Barracks Will Commence This Evening.

THE HALL IS DECORATED

With Pines and Evergreens and Presents a Very Handsome Appearance.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS COMING

The Salvation Army mid-winter campmeeting will open this evening and the meetings promise to be very successful.

The barracks on Fourth street present a very handsome appearance, and when one enters the hall they can without any trouble imagine they had been transferred to a grove. The hall is decorated with pines and evergreens and in all parts of the room are trees. On the platform is a very handsome arch of trees and evergreen.

At the service tonight Mrs. Staff Captain Oscott, of Columbus, will be present and conduct the services. She will also be present and conduct the meetings tomorrow. She is very eloquent and is well worth hearing.

Lieutenant Colonel R. E. Holz, in command of the Salvation Army in Ohio and the south, and Adjutant C. H. Straubel, the well known soloist of Cleveland, will be here for Wednesday night, January 23.

Major and Mrs. Dubbin will arrive in the city on Saturday, January 26, and will conduct the meetings over Sunday.

Services will be held every night while the meetings are in progress.

SELLERS WAS AFRAID

THAT SOMEBODY HAD ABDUCTED HIS WIFE.

The Story of an East Liverpool Couple Who Now Reside in Cleveland.

The Cleveland papers of yesterday print the following interesting story in regard to well known East Liverpool people:

Mrs. Mollie C. Sellers, formerly of East Liverpool, has disappeared from her home at No. 96½ Muirson street, Cleveland, and her husband, George Sellers, thinks she has been abducted. The woman disappeared on Monday and the police and detectives of Cleveland have been working on the case ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left East Liverpool about 18 months ago and have since been living in Cleveland. They have one child, two years old. They were married three years ago. Sellers is a cooper by trade.

On last Monday Mrs. Sellers told her husband that on Monday she intended to go to a dyeing establishment on Euclid avenue to have a coat cleaned and repaired. He replied "All right."

When Sellers came home in the evening his wife said that she had been to the place, but that the woman she desired to see was not in and that she would return between 7 and 8 o'clock to see her.

During the evening meal the husband and wife chatted gaily. After supper he lay down on the lounge and his wife attended to her duties, afterwards playing with the baby.

At 7:45 Sellers called the attention of his wife to her engagement and said that she had better go, as it was getting late. She put on her hat and coat, kissing her husband and baby, she started out.

On the sidewalk she threw a kiss to husband and baby, who had opened a window to watch her. At Muirson and Superior streets she turned and waved at them. This is the last that was seen of Mrs. Sellers.

Investigation at the Euclid avenue establishment disclosed the fact that Mrs. Sellers has called in the afternoon, but not in the evening.

The sequel to the story was given today in which it was stated that Mrs. Sellers turned up in Judge Kennedy's court with James Hogan on a charge of being intoxicated. She was given a lecture and left the court with her husband.

PENTECOSTAL MEETINGS.

They Will be Conducted for the Next Ten Days in the First M. E. Church.

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation, unto every one that believeth."

The readers of the News Review will find the above quotation in the first chapter of Romans. Evangelist Smith took it as his text last night, in the presence of a fine audience at the First M. E. church, and the remarks of the speaker went home to the hearts and consciences of his hearers, as was fully evidenced by the intense quietness and close attention paid him.

The evangelist spoke of the wonderful mercy of God, as exhibited through the atonement, and then spoke of the awful wrath of God, illustrating by the destruction of Sodom and Gomorah, characterizing the destruction of those cities as mere profiles, and painting, in word pictures, the awfulness of the wrath to come, asserting that it made him heartsick to be compelled to do so, but that his duty as a man of God compelled him to cry aloud unto sinners and sound the note of warning, in order to clear his own skirts of blood guiltiness.

The speaker said he abhorred sensational preaching, and had no desire to scare men and women, as the term now is; but he did desire to show unto sinners, by the authority of the Word of God, and upon the word of the blessed Jesus, that the wrath of God is an awful feature for unrepentant humanity to face.

The after meeting was one of intense interest, there being ten adults at the mercy seat. The evangelist will conduct the services tonight, and he will preach at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. on Sunday, January 20. The present series of meetings will last at least ten days, and may be continued for an indefinite period.

There will be a grand rally or mass meeting at 2 p. m. on Sunday. You have a warm invitation to be present.

"That said board shall not reduce the value of the real property of the county (city) below the aggregate value thereof, as fixed by the state board of equalization, nor below its aggregate value on the tax duplicate of the preceding year, to which shall be added the value of all new entries and new structures over the value of those destroyed as returned by the several township assessors for the current year; provided, further, that except as to new structures and structures destroyed and lands and lots appearing on the tax list since the preceding decennial board of equalization, the annual county board shall not increase or reduce the valuation of any real estate, except in cases of gross inequality, and then only upon reasonable notice to all persons directly interested and an opportunity for fair hearing of the questions involved."

Courts of this state have passed upon and construed these sections in the cases cited in the 47th Ohio state reports, page 447, 56th Ohio state reports, page 34, and 9th Ohio circuit court reports, page 98, the conclusion of the court in each case being that the city annual board of equalization may equalize the values of specific parcels of real estate in all cases where gross inequality in such values exists, upon giving reasonable notice to all persons directly interested in the same, and upon an opportunity being given for a fair hearing of the questions involved.

In such cases and under such circumstances they may raise values of such real estate as has been appraised too low, and lower such as has been appraised too high—in all cases preserving the aggregate amount returned by the city decennial board of equalization.

Nor does it follow that the annual city board, which meets in the spring, should wait for complaints of property owners before taking action in this most important matter.

The parties most aggrieved are largely from the poorer classes—the owners of individual homes and not able to incur expense in order to obtain their rights. The board shall take the initiative, and the city council of East Liverpool should see to it that the board of equalization to be appointed next spring is instructed to inquire into these cases of unfair appraisal and to see that the same are adjusted with fairness to all classes of property and upon an equal basis of values. If the local authorities of East Liverpool, by which I mean the city council, and the coming annual board of equalization act promptly and energetically, each case of inequality can be readily adjusted.

Trusting that in this opinion I have fully answered the inquiries suggested by your letter, I remain,

Yours truly,

J. H. BROOKES,
Prosecuting Attorney.

"That said board shall not reduce the value of the real property of the county (city) below the aggregate value thereof, as fixed by the state board of equalization, nor below its aggregate value on the tax duplicate of the preceding year, to which shall be added the value of all new entries
and new structures over the value of those destroyed as returned by the several township assessors for the current year; provided, further, that except as to new structures and structures destroyed and lands and lots appearing on the tax list since the preceding decennial board of equalization,
the annual county board shall not increase or reduce the valuation of any real estate, except in cases of gross inequality, and then only upon reasonable notice to all persons directly interested and an opportunity for fair hearing of the questions involved."

Courts of this state have passed upon and construed these sections in the cases cited in the 47th Ohio state reports, page 447, 56th Ohio state reports, page 34, and 9th Ohio circuit court reports, page 98, the conclusion of the court in each case being that the city annual board of equalization may equalize the values of specific parcels of real estate in all cases where gross inequality in such values exists, upon giving reasonable notice
to all persons directly interested in the same, and upon an opportunity being given for a fair hearing of the questions involved.

In such cases and under such circumstances they may raise values of such real estate as has been appraised too low, and lower such as has been appraised too high—in all cases preserving the aggregate amount returned by the city decennial board of equalization.

Nor does it follow that the annual
city board, which meets in the spring, should wait for complaints of property owners before taking action in this most important matter.

The parties most aggrieved are largely from the poorer classes—the owners of individual homes and not able to incur expense in order to obtain their rights. The board shall take the initiative, and the city council of East Liverpool should see to it that the board of equalization to be appointed next spring is instructed to inquire into these cases of unfair ap-praisalment and to see that the same

The Story of an East Liverpool Couple Who Now Reside in Cleveland.

The Cleveland papers of yesterday print the following interesting story in regard to well known East Liverpool people:

Mrs. Mollie C. Sellers, formerly of East Liverpool, has disappeared from her home at No. 96½ Muirson street, Cleveland, and her husband, George Sellers, thinks she has been abducted. The woman disappeared on Monday and the police and detectives of Cleveland have been working on the case ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left East Liverpool about 18 months ago and have since been living in Cleveland. They have one child, two years old. They were married three years ago. Sellers is a cooper by trade.

On last Monday Mrs. Sellers told her husband that on Monday she intended to go to a dyeing establishment on Euclid avenue to have a coat cleaned and repaired. He replied "All right."

When Sellers came home in the evening his wife said that she had been to the place, but that the woman she desired to see was not in and that she would return between 7 and 8 o'clock to see her.

During the evening meal the husband and wife chatted gaily. After supper he lay down on the lounge and his wife attended to her duties, afterwards playing with the baby.

At 7:45 Sellers called the attention of his wife to her engagement and said that she had better go, as it was getting late. She put on her hat and coat, kissing her husband and baby, she started out.

On the sidewalk she threw a kiss to husband and baby, who had opened a window to watch her. At Muirson and Superior streets she turned and waved at them. This is the last that was seen of Mrs. Sellers.

Investigation at the Euclid avenue establishment disclosed the fact that Mrs. Sellers has called in the afternoon, but not in the evening.

The sequel to the story was given today in which it was stated that Mrs. Sellers turned up in Judge Kennedy's court with James Hogan on a charge of being intoxicated. She was given a lecture and left the court with her husband.

PENTECOSTAL MEETINGS.

They Will be Conducted for the Next Ten Days in the First M. E. Church.

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation, unto every one that believeth."

The readers of the News Review will find the above quotation in the first chapter of Romans. Evangelist Smith took it as his text last night, in the presence of a fine audience at the First M. E. church, and the remarks of the speaker went home to the hearts and consciences of his hearers, as was fully evidenced by the intense quietness and close attention paid him.

The evangelist spoke of the wonderful mercy of God, as exhibited through the atonement, and then spoke of the awful wrath of God, illustrating by the destruction of Sodom and Gomorah, characterizing the destruction of those cities as mere profiles, and painting, in word pictures, the awfulness of the wrath to come, asserting that it made him heartsick to be compelled to do so, but that his duty as a man of God compelled him to cry aloud unto sinners and sound the note of warning, in order to clear his own skirts of blood guiltiness.

The speaker said he abhorred sensational preaching, and had no desire to scare men and women, as the term now is; but he did desire to show unto sinners, by the authority of the Word of God, and upon the word of the blessed Jesus, that the wrath of God is an awful feature for unrepentant humanity to face.

The after meeting was one of intense interest, there being ten adults at the mercy seat. The evangelist will conduct the services tonight, and he will preach at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. on Sunday, January 20. The present series of meetings will last at least ten days, and may be continued for an indefinite period.

There will be a grand rally or mass meeting at 2 p. m. on Sunday. You have a warm invitation to be present.

"That said board shall not reduce the value of the real property of the county (city) below the aggregate value thereof, as fixed by the state board of equalization, nor below its aggregate value on the tax duplicate of the preceding year, to which shall be added the value of all new entries and new structures over the value of those destroyed as returned by the several township assessors for the current year; provided, further, that except as to new structures and structures destroyed and lands and lots appearing on the tax list since the preceding decennial board of equalization, the annual county board shall not increase or reduce the valuation of any real estate, except in cases of gross inequality, and then only upon reasonable notice to all persons directly interested and an opportunity for fair hearing of the questions involved."

Courts of this state have passed upon and construed these sections in the cases cited in the 47th Ohio state reports, page 447, 56th Ohio state reports, page 34, and 9th Ohio circuit court reports, page 98, the conclusion of the court in each case being that the city annual board of equalization may equalize the values of specific parcels of real estate in all cases where gross inequality in such values exists, upon giving reasonable notice to all persons directly interested in the same, and upon an opportunity being given for a fair hearing of the questions involved.

In such cases and under such circumstances they may raise values of such real estate as has been appraised too low, and lower such as has been appraised too high—in all cases preserving the aggregate amount returned by the city decennial board of equalization.

Nor does it follow that the annual city board, which meets in the spring, should wait for complaints of property owners before taking action in this most important matter.

The parties most aggrieved are largely from the poorer classes—the owners of individual homes and not able to incur expense in order to obtain their rights. The board shall take the initiative, and the city council of East Liverpool should see to it that the board of equalization to be appointed next spring is instructed to inquire into these cases of unfair appraisal and to see that the same are adjusted with fairness to all classes of property and upon an equal basis of values. If the local authorities of East Liverpool, by which I mean the city council, and the coming annual board of equalization act promptly and energetically, each case of inequality can be readily adjusted.

Trusting that in this opinion I have fully answered the inquiries suggested by your letter, I remain,

Yours truly,

J. H. BROOKES,
Prosecuting Attorney.

GIFT TO A SCHOOL.

$400,000 to Syracuse Under Condition.

LIKE AMOUNT MUST BE RAISED.

The Gift Was Anonymously, but the Donor Believed to Be John D. Archbold—Chancellor Day Would Not Make Public the Name.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Announcement was made that "a friend" had given $400,000 to the endowment fund of Syracuse university, conditional only upon a like amount being raised among other friends of the institution. The gift was made anonymously, and Chancellor James B. Day refused to divulge his name, but it is learned from reliable sources that it is John D. Archbold, of New York, a vice president of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Archbold is president of the board of trustees of the Syracuse university and a close friend of Chancellor Day. This gift followed a long series of annual gifts of from $40,000 to $80,000 made by the same man in a similar anonymous manner.

The sum realized from these benefactions will be applied to wipe out the floating debt on the university property and to establish an endowment fund. Chancellor Day will start to raise the amount equal to this anonymous donation. A part of the amount, he said, was already in sight, and the whole will probably be raised within a year.

ARMY BILL PASSED SENATE.

If It Becomes Law, the Canteen Will Be Wiped Out—To Go to Conference Committee.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The senate finally passed the army reorganization bill. The measure having originated in the senate, the final question was not upon its passage, but upon agreeing to the senate amendments. They were agreed to by a vote of 43 to 23. While party lines were drawn on the measure, four Democrats voted for it, Senators Lindsay, of Kentucky; McLaurin, of South Carolina; Morgan, of Alabama, and Sullivan, of Mississippi. Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, who was detained at his home by illness, was paired against the bill with Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin. The bill occupied almost the entire attention of the senate since the 3d of January, when it was made the unfinished business. While the opposition to it at all stages was vigorous it never was bitter. Numerous amendments were made to it, but the committee was almost generally sustained, and the measure, with the exception of the elimination of the canteen clause, is not widely different from that reported to the senate.

A determined effort was made to amend the bill so as to provide against the sale of liquor in the Philippines and to prohibit the importation of any kind of intoxicants into the islands, but it was defeated.

Some of the speakers opposed it on the ground, expressed by them, of leaving the matter for the Philippines commission to deal with.

A notable speech was delivered by Mr. Hale, of Maine, who, while opposing the increase in the strength of the army, stated cogently his reasons for supporting the bill.

Every effort to prevent the increase in the strength of the army was defeated by a decisive majority.

As the bill originated in the senate it will have to go to the conference committee appointed by the two branches of congress.

FAVOR BUILDING CANAL.

Also by the United States—But Senate Republicans Desire to Await Action on Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 19.—After the conclusion of a Republican senate caucus Friday Senator Allison, as its chairman, gave out the following official statement concerning the object of the caucus and the result of its deliberations:

"Senator Morgan, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals, made a request of the Republicans of the senate that a day be fixed by order of the senate for the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill. This request was made to the committee on the order of business and this committee considered the request and made the recommendation to the Republican conference this morning that at this time it is not expedient nor wise to fix a day for the consideration of the bill in view of the pendency of the question by Great Britain or the amendments proposed by the senate to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. This view was approved by the Republican caucus without division. There was a universal sentiment expressed in favor of the construction of the canal by the United States at the earliest practical time."

Other bills and matters also were brought up during the caucus.

SNAKE BAND WAS RAIDING.

Creek Indians Ride Through Country Whipping Peaceable Tribesmen.

Enfauila, I. T., Jan. 19.—Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson brought the news that the disaffected Creek Indians, known as the "Snake Band," were up in arms and were riding through the country, whipping and maltreating peaceable Indians. Johnson said he saw a band of 50 headed by John Creek, near Proctor. They were heavily armed and were arresting some Creeks, whom they took to Hickory Ground, their headquarters, and whipped. It was stated that one man who resisted arrest was killed. The marshal said the country west of here is in an uproar, that several bands of disaffected Indians, numbering about 50 each, are out. They claimed to be the legally constituted authority in the nation. They had elected an independent chief council and other officers and the peaceable people had applied to the federal authorities for protection.

These Indians were all full bloods, ignorant and stubborn. They were the anti-treaty party, and say they will make no treaty and will not allow any Creek council to ratify one.

ROSEWATER OBTAINED INJUNCTION.

Complained That Warrants For Arrest Injured His Candidacy.

Omaha, Jan. 19.—Edward Rosewater obtained an injunction restraining Police Judge King, of South Omaha, from issuing any more warrants for his arrest; County Attorney Shields from filing any more complaints against him, and Chief of Police Mitchell, of South Omaha, from serving more warrants upon him until further orders of the court.

These injunctions apply to the complaints, warrants and arrests on charges of violating the "corrupt practices" act, by unlawful expenditure of money to secure votes. In his application for the injunction Mr. Rosewater declared that the issuing and serving of these papers is injuring his candidacy for United States senator. The case was set for Jan. 26.

MRS. NATION IS DISCHARGED.

County Attorney Asserted That She Labored Under a Delusion.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The county attorney dismissed the charge against Mrs. Carrie Nation, of the Women's Christian Temperance union, who was in jail here nearly a month for breaking saloon fixtures in her enthusiasm for temperance work. In dismissing the case the county attorney said:

"The defendant labors under a delusion to such an extent as to be practically irresponsible. Further confinement in jail would not improve her condition of mind."

INSULTED GEN. DICK.

A Cadet Shook His Finger at Congressman.

One Minister and Several Cadets Testified That Students at West Point Were Not Mistreated on Account of Religious Beliefs—Some Oppose Fighting.

West Point, Jan. 19.—During the course of hearing here testimony by the congressional committee, a number of witnesses were examined. Some of them testified as follows in part:

Cadet Leo Israel Samuelson, of Texas, testified that he was a Jew; that he had never been interfered with by cadets on account of his religion, and knew of no cadets who had been so interfered with.

Cadet Samuel Frankenberg, of West Virginia, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness.

Rev. Herbert Shipman, Protestant Episcopal chaplain to the cadets, said the moral tone of the cadet corps compares favorably with that of any other institution of which he knew.

The witness said there was absolutely no religious intolerance among the cadets.

Cadet A. J. Lynch, of New York, said the "scrapping committee" had refused on three occasions to allow fourth class men to be called out on the grounds that the offenses were not of sufficient gravity.

"When a man is called out by the committee can he get out of fighting?" asked the chairman.

"Yes, sir; he can simply refuse to go into it," replied the witness.

General Dick shook his finger at the witness and said slowly:

"Don't you know that if he did so he would be cut and ostracized by the whole corps?"

"Yes, sir," said the witness in an argumentative tone, at the same time shaking his finger at the general, "and rightly so."

"The man who would refuse to fight a man of his own size and weight has no business in the army. Give me a man of my own size and weight and I'll fight him," said Lynch.

The witness went on to tell of fighting with either fists or weapons, and said the French code gave a man a chance of defending his honor.

General Dick quietly reminded the young man that the United States authorities had not sent him to France for his military education and gave him some friendly advice to obey the laws and regulations of the academy.

The question and answer caused a good deal of laughter, but the witness seemed to be in a very serious mood.

Cadet Francis W. Clark, of Illinois, testified that he was opposed to hazing and fighting. He had eagled a cadet once, but only gave him three eagles.

In reply to Mr. Driggs he said that there were others in the first class that held the same opinions as he did. He said the first class men could maintain their dignity and get the lower class men to obey without subjecting them to hazing.

Mr. Driggs said: "Mr. Chairman, I desire to state right here that I am very glad that this young man was called upon to testify. He is certainly a credit to the academy."

MET BIG LEAGUE BOARD.

New York, Jan. 19.—The promoters of the new American baseball association met the board of arbitration of the National league at the Fifth Avenue hotel. As a result of the advice given to the new magnates by the solons of the national pastime, they went back to the Hotel Marlborough last night, made a few important changes in their original plans as to the circuit, effected a permanent organization and began work on a constitution. Today the promoters, it was asserted, once more appear before the National board, sign the National agreement, secure protection and then elect officers.

There were two important changes in the proposed circuit made after Friday's session.

As a result the American association will not have a team in Chicago. The magnates of the new organization decided to take in Detroit instead.

The other change will be in the management of the Philadelphia

team. H. K. Niles will be the controlling power in the Quaker City, and they are to play on National league grounds, instead of A. H. Koch, the man originally selected by the association magnates. Mr. Koch is to have the Detroit franchise.

The following circuit was decided upon: Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston in the east, and Detroit, Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis in the west.

Havenor, who was to have the Chicago franchise, will go to Milwaukee and run the club there, with H. D. Quin.

Harry Pulliam will have the Louisville franchise. Watkins will have the Indianapolis team, while W. C. Bryan and Charles White will be at the head of the Washington club. Arthur Irwin will be the man in Boston.

"Bill" Clarke, the Boston catcher, will be the head man of the Baltimore club. Clarke is an old Baltimore player. He says that he has ample backing.

It was announced last night that a deal has been arranged whereby Jack Doyle goes to the Chicago league club in exchange for Third Baseman Strang. First Baseman Ganzel and Pitcher Garvin.

BILL GAINS SOME ADVANTAGE.

The Cramps' Claim For Damages Considered in the House.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The house considered the bill to refer to the court of claims the claims of the William Cramp & Son Shipbuilding company, of Philadelphia, for alleged damages due to the delay of the government in furnishing armor plate and material for the battleships Massachusetts and Indiana and the cruisers New York and Columbia. The claims aggregate $1,367,244. The bill has been conspicuous at every session of congress for several years. It met with the strenuous and determined opposition of a portion of the minority under the leadership of Mr. McDermott, of New Jersey, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri. A filibuster was finally begun, but its advocates at length succeeded in having the previous question ordered upon the bill. The house then adjourned. The ordering of the previous question gave the bill a tactical advantage in parliamentary way, which practically insured a vote upon it whenever it is called up again.

WOOLSON COMPANY NOTIFIED.

Proposed Inspection of Books by Legal Representative of Arbuckles.

Toledo, O., Jan. 19.—The Woolson Spice company was notified of the proposed inspection of the company's books by the legal representatives of the Arbuckles Brothers company.

The plaintiffs are obliged to give the Woolson company attorneys 24 hours' notice of the inspection, and they, in turn, are allowed eight days to comply with the demand.

Eczema for Forty Years.

The Unqualified Statement of a Well Known Attorney, St. Ignace, Mich.

Some of the cures made by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment of stubborn and long continued eczema and skin diseases are causing much comment.

People are beginning to realize that this Ointment is a wonder worker with all kinds of skin trouble. Attorney Jas. J. Brown, St. Ignace, Michigan, writes as follows:

Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Gents:—I cannot refrain from expressing my acknowledgment for the relief I have felt from Dr. Chase's Ointment. For 40 years I was afflicted with a skin disease which was located in one spot—on my leg. I have spent at a rough estimate five hundred dollars trying to effect a cure, and not until I applied this ointment did I get relief. You are strangers to me and this letter is prompted directly because I want to say and I feel as though I ought to say it. That Chase's Ointment has effected a complete cure of my affliction. Three boxes did the work on my leg. I was also suffering from itching piles and applied the ointment which gave the best of satisfaction by affording me rest at night and rapidly causing the disease to disappear. I have received such relief and comfort from the ointment that I cannot withhold expressing my gratitude. I was so long afflicted with the tortures of eczema I feel now that I am cured, a word of recommendation is due from me.

Yours truly,

JAS. J. BROWN.

KEEPING THE QUEEN QUIET.

Ordered by Physicians That She Must Not Be Allowed to Transact Business.

London, Jan. 19.—The following official announcement regarding the Queen's health was made known:

"The queen, during the past year, has had a great strain upon her powers, which has rather told upon her nervous system. It has therefore been thought advisable by her majesty's physicians that her majesty should be kept perfectly quiet in the house and should abstain from the present from transacting business."

GIFT TO A SCHOOL.

LIKE AMOUNT MUST BE RAISED.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Announcement was made that "a friend" had given $400,000 to the endowment fund of Syracuse university, conditional only upon a like amount being raised among other friends of the institution. The gift was made anonymously, and Chancellor James B. Day refused to divulge his name, but it is learned from reliable sources that it is John D. Archbold, of New York, a vice president of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Archbold is president of the board of trustees of the Syracuse university and a close friend of Chancellor Day. This gift followed a long series of annual gifts of from $40,000 to $80,000 made by the same man in a similar anonymous manner. The sum realized from these benefactions will be applied to wipe out the floating debt on the university property and to establish an endowment fund. Chancellor Day will start to raise the amount equal to this anonymous donation. A part of the amount, he said, was already in sight, and the whole will probably be raised within a year.

ARMY BILL PASSED SENATE.

It Becomes Law, the Canteen Will Be Wiped Out—To Go to Conference Committee.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The senate finally passed the army reorganization bill. The measure having originated in the senate, the final question was not upon its passage, but upon agreeing to the senate amendments. They were agreed to by a vote of 43 to 23. While party lines were drawn on the measure, four Democrats voted for it, Senators Lindsay, of Kentucky; McLaughlin, of South Carolina; Morgan, of Alabama, and Sullivan, of Mississippi. Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, who was detained at his home by illness, was paired against the bill with Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin. The bill occupied almost the entire session of the senate since the 3d of January, when it was made the unfinished business. While the opposition to it at all stages was vigorous it never was bitter. Numerous amendments were made to it, but the committee was almost generally sustained, and the measure, with the exception of the elimination of the canteen clause, is not widely different from that reported to the senate.

A determined effort was made to amend the bill so as to provide against the sale of liquor in the Philippines and to prohibit the importation of any kind of intoxicants into the islands, but it was defeated.

Some of the speakers opposed it on the ground, expressed by them, of leaving the matter for the Philippines commission to deal with.

A notable speech was delivered by Mr. Hale, of Maine, who, while opposing the increase in the strength of the army, stated emphatically his reasons for supporting the bill.

Every effort to prevent the increase in the strength of the army was defeated by a decisive majority.

As the bill originated in the senate it will have to go to the conference committee appointed by the two branches of congress.

FAVOR BUILDING CANAL.

Also by the United States—But Senate Republicans Desire to Await Action on Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 19.—After the conclusion of a Republican senate caucus Friday Senator Allison, as its chairman, gave out the following official statement concerning the object of the caucus and the result of its deliberations:

"Senator Morgan, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals, made a request of the Republicans of the senate that a day be fixed by order of the senate for the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill. This request was made to the committee on the order of business and this committee considered the request and made the recommendation to the Republican conference this morning that at this time it is not expedient nor wise to fix a day for the consideration of the bill in view of the pendency of the question by Great Britain or the amendments proposed by the senate to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. This view was approved by the Republican caucus without division. There was a universal sentiment expressed in favor of the construction of the canal by the United States at the earliest practical time."

Other bills and matters also were brought up during the caucus.

ORDERS COUNTERMANDED.

Scorpion Commander Told to Remain at La Guayra.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The orders to the Scorpion to proceed from La Guayra to Guanaco were countermanded and she will remain at La Guayra, where her presence is regarded as necessary.

By direction of the state department Minister Loomis has protested to the Venezuelan government against the exercise of censorship over any of his official communications, and it is understood that the protest has been effective.

SNAKE BAND WAS RAIDING.

Creek Indians Ride Through Country Whipping Peaceable Tribesmen.

Eufaula, I. T., Jan. 19.—Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson brought the news that the disaffected Creek Indians, known as the "Snake Band," were up in arms and were riding through the country, whipping and maltreating peaceable Indians. Johnson said he saw a band of 50 headed by John Creek, near Proctor. They were heavily armed and were arresting some Creeks, whom they took to Hickory Ground, their headquarters, and whipped. It was stated that one man who resisted arrest was killed. The marshal said the country west of here is in an uproar, that several bands of disaffected Indians, numbering about 50 each, are out. They claimed to be the legally constituted authority in the nation. They had elected an independent chief council and other officers and the peaceable people had applied to the federal authorities for protection. These Indians were all full bloods, ignorant and stubborn. They were the anti-treaty party, and say they will make no treaty and will not allow any Creek council to ratify one.

ROSEWATER OBTAINED INJUNCTION.

Complained That Warrants For Arrest Injured His Candidacy.

Omaha, Jan. 19.—Edward Rosewater obtained an injunction restraining Police Judge King, of South Omaha, from issuing any more warrants for his arrest; County Attorney Shields from filing any more complaints against him, and Chief of Police Mitchell, of South Omaha, from serving more warrants upon him until further orders of the court.

These injunctions apply to the complaints, warrants and arrests on charges of violating the "corrupt practices" act, by unlawful expenditure of money to secure votes. In his application for the injunction Mr. Rosewater declared that the issuing and serving of these papers is injuring his candidacy for United States senator. The case was set for Jan. 26.

MRS. NATION IS DISCHARGED.

County Attorney Asserted That She Labored Under a Delusion.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The county attorney dismissed the charge against Mrs. Carrie Nation, of the Women's Christian Temperance union, who was in jail here nearly a month for breaking saloon fixtures in her enthusiasm for temperance work. In dismissing the case the county attorney said:

"The defendant labors under a delusion to such an extent as to be practically irresponsible. Further confinement in jail would not improve her condition of mind."

Students Ordered Expatriated.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—One hundred and fifty students recently arrested at Kioff for engaging in political agitation were ordered expatriated to Port Arthur, where they will do military service.

Governor Davis Inaugurated.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 19.—Governor Jefferson Davis was inaugurated before the senate and house in joint session. After his inaugural address the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Bunn. The ceremonies were very unostentatious.

Rejected Esterhazy's Appeal.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The council of state rejected Count Esterhazy's appeal against the decree cashiering him from the army.

INSULTED GEN. DICK.

A Cadet Shook His Finger at Congressman.

One Minister and Several Cadets Testified That Students at West Point Were Not Mistreated on Account of Religious Beliefs—Some Oppose Fighting.

West Point, Jan. 19.—During the course of hearing here testimony by the congressional committee, a number of witnesses were examined. Some of them testified as follows in part:

Cadet Leo Israel Samuelson, of Texas, testified that he was a Jew; that he had never been interfered with by cadets on account of his religion, and knew of no cadets who had been so interfered with.

Cadet Samuel Frankenger, of West Virginia, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness.

Rev. Herbert Shipman, Protestant Episcopal chaplain to the cadets, said the moral tone of the cadet corps compares favorably with that of any other institution of which he knew.

The witness said there was absolutely no religious intolerance among the cadets.

Cadet A. J. Lynch, of New York, said the "scrapping committee" had refused on three occasions to allow fourth class men to be called out on the grounds that the offenses were not of sufficient gravity.

"When a man is called out by the committee can he get out of fighting?" asked the chairman.

"Yes, sir; he can simply refuse to go into it," replied the witness.

General Dick shook his finger at the witness and said slowly:

"Don't you know that if he did so he would be cut and ostracized by the whole corps?"

"Yes, sir," said the witness in an argumentative tone, at the same time shaking his finger at the general, "and rightly so."

"The man who would refuse to fight a man of his own size and weight has no business in the army. Give me a man of my own size and weight and I'll fight him," said Lynch.

The witness went on to tell of fighting with either fists or weapons, and said the French code gave a man a chance of defending his honor.

General Dick quietly reminded the young man that the United States authorities had not sent him to France for his military education and gave him some friendly advice to obey the laws and regulations of the academy.

The question and answer caused a good deal of laughter, but the witness seemed to be in a very serious mood.

Cadet Francis W. Clark, of Illinois, testified that he was opposed to hazing and fighting. He had eagled a cadet once, but only gave him three eagles.

In reply to Mr. Driggs he said that there were others in the first class that held the same opinions as he did. He said the first class men could maintain their dignity and get the lower class men to obey without subjecting them to hazing.

Mr. Driggs said:

"Mr. Chairman, I desire to state right here that I am very glad that this young man was called upon to testify. He is certainly a credit to the academy."

MET BIG LEAGUE BOARD.

New York, Jan. 19.—The promoters of the new American baseball association met the board of arbitration of the National league at the Fifth Avenue hotel. As a result of the advice given to the new magnates by the solons of the national pastime, they went back to the Hotel Marlborough last night, made a few important changes in their original plans as to the circuit, effected a permanent organization and began work on a constitution. Today the promoters, it was asserted, once more appear before the National board, sign the National agreement, secure protection and then elect officers.

There were two important changes in the proposed circuit made after Friday's session.

As a result the American association will not have a team in Chicago. The magnates of the new organization decided to take in Detroit instead.

The other change will be in the management of the Philadelphia

team. H. K. Niles will be the controlling power in the Quaker City, and they are to play on National league grounds, instead of A. H. Koch, the man originally selected by the association magnates. Mr. Koch is to have the Detroit franchise.

The following circuit was decided upon: Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston in the east, and Detroit, Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis in the west.

Havenor, who was to have the Chicago franchise, will go to Milwaukee and run the club there, with H. D. Quin.

Harry Pulliam will have the Louisville franchise, Watkins will have the Indianapolis team, while W. C. Bryan and Charles White will be at the head of the Washington club. Arthur Irwin will be the man in Boston.

"Bill" Clarke, the Boston catcher, will be the head man of the Baltimore club. Clarke is an old Baltimore player. He says that he has ample backing.

It was announced last night that a deal has been arranged whereby Jack Doyle goes to the Chicago league club in exchange for Third Baseman Strang. First Baseman Ganzel and Pitcher Garvin.

BILL GAINS SOME ADVANTAGE.

The Cramps' Claim For Damages Considered in the House.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The house considered the bill to refer to the court of claims the claims of the William Cramp & Son Shipbuilding company, of Philadelphia, for alleged damages due to the delay of the government in furnishing armor plate and material for the battleships Massachusetts and Indiana and the cruisers New York and Columbia. The claims aggregate $1,367,244. The bill has been conspicuous at every session of congress for several years. It met with the strenuous and determined opposition of a portion of the minority under the leadership of Mr. McDermott, of New Jersey, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri. A filibuster was finally begun, but its advocates at length succeeded in having the previous question ordered upon the bill. The house then adjourned. The ordering of the previous question gave the bill a tactical advantage in parliamentary way, which practically insured a vote upon it whenever it is called up again.

WOOLSON COMPANY NOTIFIED.

Proposed Inspection of Books by Legal Representative of Arbuckle's.

Toledo, O., Jan. 19.—The Woolson Spice company was notified of the proposed inspection of the company's books by the legal representatives of the Arbuckle Brothers company.

The plaintiffs are obliged to give the Woolson company attorneys 24 hours' notice of the inspection, and they, in turn, are allowed eight days to comply with the demand.

Eczema for Forty Years.

The Unqualified Statement of a Well Known Attorney, St. Ignace, Mich.

Some of the cures made by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment of stubborn and long continued eczema and skin diseases are causing much comment.

People are beginning to realize that this Ointment is a wonder worker with all kinds of skin trouble. Attorney Jas. J. Brown, St. Ignace, Michigan, writes as follows:

Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Gents:—I cannot refrain from expressing my acknowledgment for the relief I have felt from Dr. Chase's Ointment. For 40 years I was afflicted with a skin disease which was located in one spot—on my leg.

I have spent at a rough estimate five hundred dollars trying to effect a cure, and not until I applied this ointment did I get relief. You are strangers to me and this letter is prompted directly because I want to say and I feel as though I ought to say it. That Chase's Ointment has effected a complete cure of my affliction. Three boxes did the work on my leg. I was also suffering from itching piles and applied the ointment which gave the best of satisfaction by affording me rest at night and rapidly causing the disease to disappear. I have received such relief and comfort from the ointment that I cannot withhold expressing my gratitude. I was so long afflicted with the tortures of eczema I feel now that I am cured, a word of recommendation is due from me.

Yours truly,

JAS. J. BROWN.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is sold at 50 cents a box at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

KEEPING THE QUEEN QUIET.

Ordered by Physicians That She Must Not Be Allowed to Transact Business.

London, Jan. 19.—The following official announcement regarding the Queen's health was made known:

"The queen, during the past year, has had a great strain upon her powers, which has rather told upon her nervous system. It has therefore been thought advisable by her majesty's physicians that her majesty should be kept perfectly quiet in the house and should abstain from the present from transacting business."

Congressman Burton Ill.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Congressman Burton, of Ohio, is ill with the grip, complicated with rheumatism. He was removed to a hospital. He was considered better.

As the bill originated in the senate it will have to go to the conference committee appointed by the two branches of congress.

FAVOR BUILDING CANAL.

Also by the United States—But Senate Republicans Desire to Await Action on Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 19.—After the conclusion of a Republican senate caucus Friday Senator Allison, as its chairman, gave out the following official statement concerning the object of the caucus and the result of its deliberations:

"Senator Morgan, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals, made a request of the Republicans of the senate that a day be fixed by order of the senate for the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill. This request was made to the committee on the order of business and this committee considered the request and made the recommendation to the Republican conference this morning that at this time it is not expedient nor wise to fix a day for the consideration of the bill in view of the pendency of the question by Great Britain or the amendments proposed by the senate to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. This view was approved by the Republican caucus without division. There was a universal sentiment expressed in favor of the construction of the canal by the United States at the earliest practical time."

Other bills and matters also were brought up during the caucus.

ORDERS COUNTERMANDED.

Scorpion Commander Told to Remain at La Guayra.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The orders to the Scorpion to proceed from La Guayra to Guanaco were countermanded and she will remain at La Guayra, where her presence is regarded as necessary.

By direction of the state department Minister Loomis has protested to the Venezuelan government against the exercise of censorship over any of his official communications, and it is understood that the protest has been effective.

SNAKE BAND WAS RAIDING.

Creek Indians Ride Through Country Whipping Peaceable Tribesmen.

Eufaula, I. T., Jan. 19.—Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson brought the news that the disaffected Creek Indians, known as the "Snake Band," were up in arms and were riding through the country, whipping and maltreating peaceable Indians. Johnson said he saw a band of 50 headed by John Creek, near Proctor. They were heavily armed and were arresting some Creeks, whom they took to Hickory Ground, their headquarters, and whipped. It was stated that one man who resisted arrest was killed. The marshal said the country west of here is in an uproar, that several bands of disaffected Indians, numbering about 50 each, are out. They claimed to be the legally constituted authority in the nation. They had elected an independent chief council and other officers and the peaceable people had applied to the federal authorities for protection.

These Indians were all full bloods, ignorant and stubborn. They were the anti-treaty party, and say they will make no treaty and will not allow any Creek council to ratify one.

ROSEWATER OBTAINED INJUNCTION.

Complained That Warrants for Arrest Injured His Candidacy.

Omaha, Jan. 19.—Edward Rosewater obtained an injunction restraining Police Judge King, of South Omaha, from issuing any more warrants for his arrest; County Attorney Shields from filing any more complaints against him, and Chief of Police Mitchell, of South Omaha, from serving more warrants upon him until further orders of the court.

These injunctions apply to the complaints, warrants and arrests on charges of violating the "corrupt practices" act, by unlawful expenditure of money to secure votes. In his application for the injunction Mr. Rosewater declared that the issuing and serving of these papers is injuring his candidacy for United States senator. The case was set for Jan. 26.

MRS. NATION IS DISCHARGED.

County Attorney Asserted That She Labored Under a Delusion.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The county attorney dismissed the charge against Mrs. Carrie Nation, of the Women's Christian Temperance union, who was in jail here nearly a month for breaking saloon fixtures in her enthusiasm for temperance work. In dismissing the case the county attorney said:

"The defendant labors under a delusion to such an extent as to be practically irresponsible. Further confinement in jail would not improve her condition of mind."

Students Ordered Expatriated.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—One hundred and fifty students recently arrested at Kioff for engaging in political agitation were ordered expatriated to Port Arthur, where they will do military service.

Governor Davis Inaugurated.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 19.—Governor Jefferson Davis was inaugurated before the senate and house in joint session. After his inaugural address the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Bunn. The ceremonies were very unostentatious.

Rejected Esterhazy's Appeal.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The council of state rejected Count Esterhazy's appeal against the decree cashiering him from the army.

INSULTED GEN. DICK.

A Cadet Shook His Finger at Congressman.

One Minister and Several Cadets Testified That Students at West Point Were Not Mistreated on Account of Religious Beliefs—Some Oppose Fighting.

West Point, Jan. 19.—During the course of hearing here testimony by the congressional committee, a number of witnesses were examined. Some of them testified as follows in part:

Cadet Leo Israel Samuelson, of Texas, testified that he was a Jew; that he had never been interfered with by cadets on account of his religion, and knew of no cadets who had been so interfered with.

Cadet Samuel Frankenberg, of West Virginia, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness.

Rev. Herbert Shipman, Protestant Episcopal chaplain to the cadets, said the moral tone of the cadet corps compares favorably with that of any other institution of which he knew.

The witness said there was absolutely no religious intolerance among the cadets.

Cadet A. J. Lynch, of New York, said the "scrapping committee" had refused on three occasions to allow fourth class men to be called out on the grounds that the offenses were not of sufficient gravity.

"When a man is called out by the committee can he get out of fighting?" asked the chairman.

"Yes, sir; he can simply refuse to go into it," replied the witness.

General Dick shook his finger at the witness and said slowly:

"Don't you know that if he did so he would be cut and ostracized by the whole corps?"

"Yes, sir," said the witness in an argumentative tone, at the same time shaking his finger at the general, "and rightly so."

"The man who would refuse to fight a man of his own size and weight has no business in the army. Give me a man of my own size and weight and I'll fight him," said Lynch.

The witness went on to tell of fighting with either fists or weapons, and said the French code gave a man a chance of defending his honor.

General Dick quietly reminded the young man that the United States authorities had not sent him to France for his military education and gave him some friendly advice to obey the laws and regulations of the academy.

The question and answer caused a good deal of laughter, but the witness seemed to be in a very serious mood.

Cadet Francis W. Clark, of Illinois, testified that he was opposed to hazing and fighting. He had eagled a cadet once, but only gave him three eagles.

In reply to Mr. Driggs he said that there were others in the first class that held the same opinions as he did. He said the first class men could maintain their dignity and get the lower class men to obey without subjecting them to hazing.

Mr. Driggs said: "Mr. Chairman, I desire to state right here that I am very glad that this young man was called upon to testify. He is certainly a credit to the academy."

MET BIG LEAGUE BOARD.

New York, Jan. 19.—The promoters of the new American baseball association met the board of arbitration of the National league at the Fifth Avenue hotel. As a result of the advice given to the new magnates by the solons of the national pastime, they went back to the Hotel Marlborough last night, made a few important changes in their original plans as to the circuit, effected a permanent organization and began work on a constitution. Today the promoters, it was asserted, once more appear before the National board, sign the National agreement, secure protection and then elect officers.

There were two important changes in the proposed circuit made after Friday's session.

As a result the American association will not have a team in Chicago. The magnates of the new organization decided to take in Detroit instead.

The other change will be in the management of the Philadelphia

team. H. K. Niles will be the controlling power in the Quaker City, and they are to play on National league grounds, instead of A. H. Koch, the man originally selected by the association magnates. Mr. Koch is to have the Detroit franchise.

The following circuit was decided upon: Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston in the east, and Detroit, Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis in the west.

Havener, who was to have the Chicago franchise, will go to Milwaukee and run the club there, with H. D. Quin.

Harry Pulliam will have the Louisville franchise, Watkins will have the Indianapolis team, while W. C. Bryan and Charles White will be at the head of the Washington club. Arthur Irwin will be the man in Boston.

"Bill" Clarke, the Boston catcher, will be the head man of the Baltimore club. Clarke is an old Baltimore player. He says that he has ample backing.

It was announced last night that a deal has been arranged whereby Jack Doyle goes to the Chicago league club in exchange for Third Baseman Strang. First Baseman Ganzel and Pitcher Garvin.

BILL GAINS SOME ADVANTAGE.

The Cramps' Claim For Damages Considered in the House.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The house considered the bill to refer to the court of claims the claims of the William Cramp & Son Shipbuilding company, of Philadelphia, for alleged damages due to the delay of the government in furnishing armor plate and material for the battleships Massachusetts and Indiana and the cruisers New York and Columbia. The claims aggregate $1,367,244. The bill has been conspicuous at every session of congress for several years. It met with the strenuous and determined opposition of a portion of the minority under the leadership of Mr. McDermott, of New Jersey, and Mr. Robb, of Missouri. A filibuster was finally begun, but its advocates at length succeeded in having the previous question ordered upon the bill. The house then adjourned. The ordering of the previous question gave the bill a tactical advantage in parliamentary way, which practically insured a vote upon it whenever it is called up again.

WOOLSON COMPANY NOTIFIED.

Proposed Inspection of Books by Legal Representative of Arbuckles.

Toledo, O., Jan. 19.—The Woolson Spice company was notified of the proposed inspection of the company's books by the legal representatives of the Arbuckles Brothers company. The plaintiffs are obliged to give the Woolson company attorneys 24 hours' notice of the inspection, and they, in turn, are allowed eight days to comply with the demand.

Eczema for Forty Years.

The Unqualified Statement of a Well Known Attorney, St. Ignace, Mich.

Some of the cures made by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment of stubborn and long continued eczema and skin diseases are causing much comment.

Dr. A. W. Chase, Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Gents:—I cannot refrain from expressing my acknowledgment for the relief I have felt from Dr. Chase's Ointment. For 40 years I was afflicted with a skin disease which was located in one spot—on my leg. I have spent at a rough estimate five hundred dollars trying to effect a cure, and not until I applied this ointment did I get relief. You are strangers to me and this letter is prompted directly because I want to say and I feel as though I ought to say it. That Chase's Ointment has effected a complete cure of my affliction. Three boxes did the work on my leg. I was also suffering from itching piles and applied the ointment which gave the best of satisfaction by affording me rest at night and rapidly causing the disease to disappear. I have received such relief and comfort from the ointment that I cannot withhold expressing my gratitude. I was so long afflicted with the tortures of eczema I feel now that I am cured, a word of recommendation is due from me.

Yours truly,
JAS. J. BROWN.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is sold at 50 cents a box at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicines Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

KEEPING THE QUEEN QUIET.

Ordered by Physicians That She Must Not Be Allowed to Transact Business.

London, Jan. 19.—The following official announcement regarding the Queen's health was made known:

"The queen, during the past year, has had a great strain upon her powers, which has rather told upon her nervous system. It has therefore been thought advisable by her majesty's physicians that her majesty should be kept perfectly quiet in the house and should abstain from the present from transacting business."

Congressman Burton Ill.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Congressman Burton, of Ohio, is ill with the grip, complicated with rheumatism. He was removed to a hospital. He was considered better.

Progress of Our Cities In the New Century.

Copyright, 1901, The Christian Herald.

City Development on Practical Lines.
By John DeWitt Warner.

In attempting to anticipate what "reforms" we may expect in municipal matters during the next century, experience warns us that, while in some details they may be so radical and novel as to make that name appropriate, they will, in the main, be such that they would be more accurately termed "developments."

Taking up at random the matters with which city authorities are now busy: Artificial light has for centuries been recognized as a necessity of civilized man and public order. It is, therefore, rapidly and certainly coming to be regarded as a want which should be directly met by the municipality; and it is as nearly certain as may be, first, that public control, and, in general, public operation of city light operation of city light plants will prevail. And we are tending rapidly toward a similar policy as to heat.

As to present facilities: not merely will clean, dry and spacious streets be the rule, but systems of subway transport will probably be more extensive than are now surface ones; while, both above and under ground, the rate of transport will be such as to approach a free supply. That is, fares will be so low, as compared with other factors in the use of cars, that these self-same factors, and not expense, will determine their use by each. It is probable that, as in the case of water, the expense of individual supply, so free as not to limit use, will be fully met by fares so petty as to be scarcely more than required to prevent waste; and the operation by the city of these "moving highways" will become as much a matter of course as is now the repair and preservation of our streets for pedestrians. The whole field of express service will be so extended as to provide not merely messenger service much more complete than now, but for the safe carriage and prompt delivery to any part of the municipality of articles deposited at any other part. Telephone service also will be correspondingly cheap and abundant.

One result of increased transport and communication facilities will be the growth of public kitchens, where shall be prepared the meals of most of our citizens, which they will receive ready served, of better quality, and more promptly and regularly, than the

It is not easy to predict how shall be solved the problem of manual labor by married women. Whether with better wages and cheaper living they will be in general relieved of other cares than those of wife and mother? or whether, with more of opportunity for self-support and partially relieved from present home duties, the number of wage earners among married women will increase? It is practically certain, however, that the right of every child to good care, nurture and education will be better protected with every decade; that day nurseries will be one of the public facilities soon provided as a matter of course; and that labor which takes mothers from their children will be permitted only in cases where proper care of all children below school age is definitely provided for.

Public baths so nearly free as to be habitually used by all and so numerous and extensive as to leave such use unlimited, will be as much a matter of course as sufficient air for breathing. Still greater relief, not merely to the poor, but especially to those of moderate and large means, will result from such a complete system of hospitals that, by 2000, for one who is ill that he cannot go about, to remain at his residence will be as unusual as a hundred years since it was universal. In every considerable city, education, to the fullest extent of the capacity of its youth, will be literally free as air, and, up to what would now be considered a high standard, made quite compulsory in one way or another.

And long before the year 2000 taxation will have been so adjusted as to encourage, not discourage, the fullest improvement of land; public franchises will be so universally operated direct by the public, that a street railway company or private water works for public supply will seem as archaic as personal government by royal charter, of the farming of taxes.

FIENDS FOUND GUILTY.

Jennie Bosschietter's Murderers Were Convicted.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER VERDICT.

Judge Thanked the Jurors—He Pronounced It a Just Verdict The Maximum Penalty Under the New Jersey Law Is Life Imprisonment.

New York, Jan. 19.—Walter C. McAllister, Andrew J. Campbell and William Death, three of the four persons indicted for the murder of Jennie Bosschietter, of Paterson, N. J., who was murdered on the night of Oct. 13 last, were adjudged guilty of murder in the second degree. They were accused of assaulting the girl, after chloral had been administered by McAllister while the party were drinking liquors. According to the New Jersey law the maximum penalty for the prisoners is life imprisonment. The jury took 14 ballots, after which the judge and prisoners were summoned into the court room. The prisoners appeared very nervous.

When the verdict was announced the prisoners exhibited neither elation nor relief.

Judge Dixon thanked the jury and said he believed the verdict a just one. He then dismissed the jurors until Monday morning. The court then rose and the prisoners were taken back to the jail.

THREE SHOTWELLS JAILED.

Militia Restored Order at Corbin, Ky. Funerals of Two Innocent Victims, Also of James Shotwell.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 19.—State militia took control here and steps were taken by Colonel R. D. Williams, commanding, to check the disorders growing out of the killing Wednesday evening of James Shotwell by Raleigh White. White was arrested Thursday and taken to Williamsburg jail. Sheriff Sutton and his deputies in charge of the prisoner were attacked en route by friends of the Shotwells, but no one was wounded. Friends of the Shotwells paraded the streets Thursday night and preparations were, it was alleged, under way for a pitched battle between the two factions.

Troops were ordered out and when they arrived Friday three sons of James Shotwell were placed under arrest. Under a strong guard they were taken to Williamsburg jail, where White is confined. They will be charged with intimidation.

Friday afternoon funeral services were held over Miss Susan Cox, Sutton Farris and James Shotwell, while the militia paraded the streets to prevent an outbreak. Miss Cox and Farris were killed Wednesday evening by stray shots from a volley fired by unknown persons into the ruins of a building, where White had gone after shooting Shotwell, and which was dynamited by unknown persons.

FUNERAL OF MOUNT.

Services in a Church at Indianapolis. Body Viewed by Public at the Indiana Capitol.

Indianapolis, Jan. 19.—Surrounded by many of the decorations that added brilliancy and splendor to the inauguration of his successor, the body of former Governor Mount, who died suddenly Tuesday night, lay in state at the capitol.

A battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery assembled at the state house, moved to the Denison hotel and acted as an escort for the procession to the capitol.

A guard of honor was formed about the bier, the south and north doors of the capitol were opened and the public began to pass through.

Later the body was borne to the First Presbyterian church, where funeral services were held. Later the body was taken back to the state house, where it lay in state again.

Later the body was carried back to the Denison hotel. Today it was to be carried by special train to Crawfordsville for interment.

Captain George Tuckerman Dead.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Captain George S. Tuckerman, a former editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, died here, aged 76 years. Captain Tuckerman was an officer of Burden's sharpshooters during the war and later as a corporation counsel of New York city.

Don't get the notion in helping the poor that you can do more with a "cheerful word" than you can with a dollar.—Atchison Globe.

The Pen in the Hand is worth two in the Mind.

If you have "a good mind to write to Dr. Pierce" take pen in hand and begin. Then you'll avoid the experience of Mrs. M. P. Davis, of Honaker, Russell Co., Va. She writes:

"For seven years I was confined to bed most of the time. I had ulceration of internal organs and female weakness. I had four doctors and they said I could not be cured. After the doctors said I could not be cured I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. I followed the advice he gave. I feel better than I ever did. My friends say I do not look like the same woman. I am sorry I did not take Dr. Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humbugs."

No one ever regretted writing to Dr. Pierce for advice. Many have regretted not writing sooner.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free, and so obtain the opinion and advice of a specialist in diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth. Address as above.

KAISER CONGRATULATED.

Ambassador White Appeared in Behalf of President McKinley—Emperor Remembered the Dead.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—United States Ambassador White presented to Emperor William the congratulations of President McKinley on the bicentenary of the coronation of the first king of Prussia, Frederick I. The presentation was made during the court reception, which was held in the Knights hall at the Schloss, after the newly-appointed knights of the Order of the Red Eagle, the royal Order of the Crown and the royal Order of the House of Hohenzollern had been presented to the emperor and empress. During this ceremony the princess stood at the right of the throne and the crown prince, with the other princes, at the left. Both the emperor and empress spoke pleasantly to Ambassador White. Later their majesties received deputations from East Prussia.

Divine service was held in the Schloss chapel, all the guests at the reception being present, and later luncheon was served in the Schloss. Ambassador White and the other foreign representatives who had presented congratulations to the emperor being present, as were also the visiting princes and the new knights. Emperor William and the empress attended the luncheon.

At one time the emperor visited the Silesia Allee and the mausoleum at Charlottenburg and deposited wreaths on the monument of King Frederick I. and the coffin of Emperor William I.

Russian Paper Said Policies Indicated Russia and America Were Following Same Lines.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—Referring to the Washington advice to the effect that the United States is disposed to exercise its good offices with the view of bringing about the settlement of the Chinese question The Novoye Vremya, probably inspired, emphasized the frequent accord between the United States and Russia, whose "declarations from the beginning and common action in withdrawing their troops show that they are pursuing the same aims."

The paper continued in part: "To avoid sowing discord among the diplomats, Russia did not then raise the question whether further operations were necessary."

"The Novoye Vremya concluded its statements, diplomatically yet suggestively, saying: 'Now, however, as the note has been ratified the conditions have so completely changed that should the United States make the friendly proposals suggested, we would not, probably, be wrong if we supported them.'"

While the diplomatic feeling had not been interrupted and the above question had not been formally discussed between the two cabinets, it was known here that Russia was earnestly opposed to further military operations in China.

Progress of Our Cities In the New Century.

City Development on Practical Lines.

By John DeWitt Warner.

In attempting to anticipate what "re-forms" we may expect in municipal matters during the next century, experience warns us that, while in some details they may be so radical and novel as to make that name appropriate, they will, in the main, be such that they would be more accurately termed "developments."

Taking up at random the matters with which city authorities are now busy: Artificial light has for centuries been recognized as a necessity of civilized man and public order. It is, therefore, rapidly and certainly coming to be regarded as a want which should be directly met by the municipality; and it is as nearly certain as may be, first, that public control, and, in general, public operation of city light operation of city light plants will prevail. And we are tending rapidly toward a similar policy as to heat.

As to present facilities: not merely will clean, dry and spacious streets be the rule, but systems of subway transport will probably be more extensive than are now surface ones; while, both above and under ground, the rate of transport will be such as to approach a free supply. That is, fares will be so low, as compared with other factors in the use of cars, that these self-same factors, and not expense, will determine their use by each. It is probable that, as in the case of water, the expense of individual supply, so free as not to limit use, will be fully met by fares so petty as to be scarcely more than required to prevent waste; and the operation by the city of these "moving highways" will become as much a matter of course as is now the repair and preservation of our streets for pedestrians. The whole field of express service will be so extended as to provide not merely messenger service much more complete than now, but for the safe carriage and prompt delivery to any part of the municipality of articles deposited at any other part. Telephone service also will be correspondingly cheap and abundant.

One result of increased transport and communication facilities will be the growth of public kitchens, where shall be prepared the meals of most of our citizens, which they will receive ready served, of better quality, and more promptly and regularly, than the

It is not easy to predict how shall be solved the problem of manual labor by married women. Whether with better wages and cheaper living they will be in general relieved of other cares than those of wife and mother? or whether, with more of opportunity for self-support and partially relieved from present home duties, the number of wage earners among married women will increase? It is practically certain, however, that the right of every child to good care, nurture and education will be better protected with every decade; that day nurseries will be one of the public facilities soon provided as a matter of course; and that labor which takes mothers from their children will be permitted only in cases where proper care of all children below school age is definitely provided for.

Public baths so nearly free as to be habitually used by all and so numerous and extensive as to leave such use unlimited, will be as much a matter of course as sufficient air for breathing. Still greater relief, not merely to the poor, but especially to those of moderate and large means, will result from such a complete system of hospitals that, by 2000, for one who is ill that he cannot go about, to remain at his residence will be as unusual as a hundred years since it was universal. In every considerable city, education, to the fullest extent of the capacity of its youth, will be literally free as air, and, up to what would now be considered a high standard, made quite compulsory in one way or another.

More provision will be made for public recreation. Beautiful sculpture, instructive paintings and fully equipped libraries will characterize the typical city.

And long before the year 2000 taxation will have been so adjusted as to encourage, not discourage, the fullest improvement of land; public franchises will be so universally operated direct by the public, that a street railway company or private water works for public supply will seem as archaic as personal government by royal charter, of the farming of taxes.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER VERDICT.

Judge Thanked the Jurors—He Pronounced It a Just Verdict The Maximum Penalty Under the New Jersey Law Is Life Imprisonment.

New York, Jan. 19.—Walter C. McAllister, Andrew J. Campbell and William Death, three of the four persons indicted for the murder of Jennie Bosschietter, of Paterson, N. J., who was murdered on the night of Oct. 13 last, were adjudged guilty of murder in the second degree. They were accused of assaulting the girl, after chloral had been administered by McAllister while the party were drinking liquors. According to the New Jersey law the maximum penalty for the prisoners is life imprisonment. The jury took 14 ballots, after which the judge and prisoners were summoned into the court room. The prisoners appeared very nervous.

When the verdict was announced the prisoners exhibited neither elation nor relief.

Judge Dixon thanked the jury and said he believed the verdict a just one. He then dismissed the jurors until Monday morning. The court then rose and the prisoners were taken back to the jail.

THREE SHOTWELLS JAILED.

Militia Restored Order at Corbin, Ky. Funerals of Two Innocent Victims, Also of James Shotwell.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 19.—State militia took control here and steps were taken by Colonel R. D. Williams, commanding, to check the disorders growing out of the killing Wednesday evening of James Shotwell by Raleigh White. White was arrested Thursday and taken to Williamsburg jail. Sheriff Sutton and his deputies in charge of the prisoner were attacked en route by friends of the Shotwells, but no one was wounded. Friends of the Shotwells paraded the streets Thursday night and preparations were, it was alleged, under way for a pitched battle between the two factions.

Troops were ordered out and when they arrived Friday three sons of James Shotwell were placed under arrest. Under a strong guard they were taken to Williamsburg jail, where White is confined. They will be charged with intimidation.

Friday afternoon funeral services were held over Miss Susan Cox, Sutton Farris and James Shotwell, while the militia paraded the streets to prevent an outbreak. Miss Cox and Farris were killed Wednesday evening by stray shots from a volley fired by unknown persons into the ruins of a building, where White had gone after shooting Shotwell, and which was dynamited by unknown persons.

FUNERAL OF MOUNT.

Services in a Church at Indianapolis. Body Viewed by Public at the Indiana Capitol.

Indianapolis, Jan. 19.—Surrounded by many of the decorations that added brilliancy and splendor to the inauguration of his successor, the body of former Governor Mount, who died suddenly Tuesday night, lay in state at the capitol.

A battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery assembled at the state house, moved to the Denison hotel and acted as an escort for the procession to the capitol.

A guard of honor was formed about the bier, the south and north doors of the capitol were opened and the public began to pass through.

Later the body was borne to the First Presbyterian church, where funeral services were held. Later the body was taken back to the state house, where it lay in state again.

Later the body was carried back to the Denison hotel. Today it was to be carried by special train to Crawfordsville for interment.

Captain George Tuckerman Dead.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Captain George S. Tuckerman, a former editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, died here, aged 76 years. Captain Tuckerman was an officer of Burden's sharpshooters during the war and later as a corporation counsel of New York city.

"For seven years I was confined to bed most of the time. I had ulceration of internal organs and female weakness. I had four doctors and they said I could not be cured. After the doctors said I could not be cured I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. I followed the advice he gave. I feel better than I ever did. My friends say I do not look like the same woman. I am sorry I did not take Dr. Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humbugs."

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 188.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1901.

TWO CENTS

THAT PATENT SAFETY DEVICE

Now Being Used on the Calcutta Road Street Railway Line Proves a Failure.

THE HAND OF PROVIDENCE

Apparently Saved the Enactment of Another Dire Tragedy. The Motorman Jumped.

CONDUCTOR STAID WITH CAR

And three persons, the motorman, the conductor and a passenger, can thank God that the runaway of a street car on the Calcutta road this afternoon did not result in their death or maiming.

The car in question left the Grandview terminus, bound for down town, at 1:30 this afternoon. As it reached a point just below Wall street, Motorman George Hales found that she was beyond his control and running away. He used every effort to stop her, found that it was impossible to do so, and jumped, fortunately sustaining no injury. There was a solitary passenger, a young man, on the rear end, and as soon as he appreciated the fact that the car was beyond the control of the motorman and conductor, he alighted without ceremony and without ringing the bell.

Conductor Joseph Davis was on the rear end, and he reached the conclusion, as he informed the writer, that the safest thing he could do was to remain with the car, which he did, and braced himself for the shock of the halt.

The car struck the acute curve, going at a fearful speed, and left the rails at almost the identical point at which the former runaway speeded to destruction. The patent safety device was left, as usual, at the curb. A small building had just been erected and completed yesterday in front of the house owned by Mrs. Sophia Wucherer, and this structure was knocked into a cocked hat and the fragments sent whirling over the adjacent hillside, the car crashing into the corner of Mrs. Wucherer's property, entering the domicile with the western side of the vehicle some four feet, shattering the front end and destroying every pane of glass in the car. Had George Hales stuck to his post, there exists no doubt in our mind, after a careful investigation of the situation, that he would have met his death.

Conductor Davis was considerably shaken up in his position on the rear platform, but he assured us that he sustained no injury.

The accident was almost a repetition of the late disastrous runaway, save that there were no fatal results.

An outsider, a reliable gentleman, tells us that when Motorman Hales consented to accept the dangerous berth, he made the promise to himself, repeating the decision to a friend, that in case of a runaway he would never accompany his car when it concluded to invade private residences without permission. If this be true, it shows that George Hales' head is level and that he acted wisely and well. It is all right to stick to the post of duty when the lives of passengers are in peril; but when a man's life is measured against property, the property can take a back seat.

And our citizens should now demand that there shall be no more trifling with life. If a street car is liable to speed on a road that leads to death whenever it rains heavily, snows lightly, or freezes a sleet, it is high time to call a halt until it is demonstrated that proper precautionary measures have been taken and that the said car can be held under control in any emergency.

CHESTER RESIDENTS.

They Know That a Bill Has Been Introduced in the Legislature.

Chester, W. Va., Jan. 19, 1901.

Editor News Review—With your approval the good citizens of Chester would like through your columns to make reply to a statement which was made in your edition of the 18th by James McDonald in regard to the application for a charter for our town of Chester. He seems to think we have been unduly exercised over the matter, and that some one is trying to get some cheap notoriety. Mr. McDonald stated that they had never applied to the legislature of our state for a charter, but that the census was being taken in order to apply to our circuit court for such a charter. How does it come if they didn't apply for a charter providing for a vote of the people on the license question that such a bill as noted in the following from the Commercial Gazette of January 18 was introduced:

"A bill has been presented providing for the incorporation of the new town of Chester, opposite East Liverpool, O., and providing for a vote by the people on its licensing of saloons in the corporation. Hancock is a local option county and there can be no vote taken on the admission of saloons unless ordered by the county commissioners. A special act now pending before the legislature provides for the incorporation of Chester and a vote on the saloon question."

Such denial seems very strange. We do not object to the incorporation, but we do object to any form of charter which makes the saloon possible or impossible or submits the question to a popular vote in the future. The idea that no such move is on foot seems very absurd to the intelligent people of Chester. We make no pretence to more than ordinary intelligence, nor to be politicians, but notwithstanding the denial of Mr. McDonald, we have had a perfect knowledge for some time that this action was contemplated, and it was no surprise to us.

And so far as cheap notoriety is concerned we are glad that it is not just two or three, but that it takes in all our town, almost unanimously, as shown by their protest signed to a petition containing almost three hundred names. We glory in such notoriety when we are in the right, on the side of God and temperance, the uplifting of our fellow man and the purity of our town.

GOOD CITIZENS.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE.

The circle met last night at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Bailey, East Market street. Mrs. Dr. Trimmer read an excellent paper on the "Iliad." Mrs. Bailey delighted those present with a paper on "Schleiman and his excavations at Troy." Mr. T. B. Mackey gave a resume on "Greek Mythology." The general discussion, questions and answers, were of unusual interest and were highly enjoyed. It is the verdict of the membership that the interest in the circle is growing apace. The next meeting will be at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Trimmer, Fifth street.

An Opinion From Prosecuting Attorney

In Regard to the Recent Decennial Land Appraisalment In This City.

A short time ago Commissioner J. H. French asked Prosecuting Attorney Brookes for an opinion on the decennial land appraisalment in this city. The opinion is as follows:

Lisbon, Jan. 16, 1901.

J. H. French, Chairman Board of County Commissioners, Lisbon, O.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of January 14 in relation to the decennial appraisalment in the city of East Liverpool, and asking for my interpretation of the law governing the annual city board of equalization, with a view to ascertaining what, if any, relief owners of real estate in the city may obtain from the board.

Some considerable misinformation has been circulated in regard to the decennial appraisalment in the city in question, the result of which is that the general public has received the impression that the real estate of the city, as a whole, has been grossly overvalued by the land appraiser. It is true, as you know, a very decided increase in the city valuation was made by the land appraiser; an increase much more decided than that shown in the other cities and towns in the county. This fact, however, does not prove that the aggregate value of the city is too large, but rather that the aggregate valuation of other cities and towns in the county is too small. The main cause of complaint, however, lies in the fact that the appraisalment has not been equally and equitably made in this city, and that the burden lies unfairly upon the owners of property. While this was originally the fault of the land appraiser and while the large valuation of the city, as a whole, must be laid at his door, the decennial board of equalization appointed by the city council, and with full authority to equalize and adjust the mistakes of the land appraiser, must now share the responsibility with him, for although the decennial board did not have the right to reduce the sum total of the appraisalment returned by the land appraiser, it did have the right to equalize it, and do full justice in the matter to all property holders. A careful examination of the books of valuation returned by the decennial board will satisfy the inquirer that this board fell far short of accomplishing that for which it was intended.

The most valuable business property in the city has been returned at ridiculously low figures, and lots and residences have been left at figures relatively much too high. In some instances the extremely low figures of the land appraiser on business blocks in the center of the city were still further reduced by the decennial board, without reasonable excuse as far as can be seen. To summarize, an unjust share of the burden of taxation has been placed upon the owners of individual homes and taken off valuable business property where it ought to rest, and where it could be most easily paid.

The result is that unless relieved by the annual city board in the manner hereinafter indicated, the burden of taxes in this city for the next ten years must be paid to an unfair extent by the poorer people thereof.

In your letter you inquire whether a remedy can be found for this unfortunate condition of affairs, and I am glad to say that, in a large measure, in my judgment, it can be.

The city annual board of equalization must be looked to, to grant relief. It has the right and power to do that which the decennial board has failed to do, to-wit: To equalize values and require all real estate to bear the burden of taxation in proportion to its value. Section 2805 Revised Statutes of Ohio, provides:

"In each city of the first and second class there shall be an annual board for the equalization of the value of real and personal property, moneys on credits in such city, to be composed of the county auditor and six citizens of such city. * * * Said boards shall have all the powers, and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in the next preceding section, for the annual county board; each member of said board is authorized to administer oaths, and said board is empowered to call persons before them, and examine them, under oath, in regard to their own, or others' property, moneys, credits and investments, and the value thereof, and to equalize the value of real and personal property, moneys, credits and investments within such cities. * * * And to increase the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have in their judgment been listed at less than their true value in money, and to reduce the value of such property, moneys, credits and investments as have been appraised above their true value in money, and shall annually meet at the office of the county auditor on the fourth Monday in May."

Section 2806 provides: "The county auditor shall lay before each of the above named boards, for the territory they respectively have jurisdiction over, the returns of the assessors for the current year, and such returns as are required to be made to the county auditor, as is provided in Section 2744, and also the valuation of the real estate as the same was entered upon the duplicate of the preceding year, or as fixed by the state board of equalization with such maps, returns, lists, abstracts and other papers that may be in the auditor's office pertinent to their duties, and each of said boards shall keep a regular journal of its proceedings which shall be deposited with the auditor."

Now it will be observed from Section 2805 that the annual city board of equalization shall have all the powers and be governed by the rules, provisions and limitations prescribed in Section 2804 for the annual county board.

Looking, then, to Section 2804 to ascertain what these powers, rules, provisions and limitations are we find it provided:

Candidates For Office Are Getting Ready to Begin Their Work Of

They All Seem to Favor an Early Primary and the Voting Day Will

BE FIXED TO SUIT THEM

It has almost reached the season of the year when the county candidate puts on his ulster and gum boots and prepares to merge forth in all his glory to hustle for votes.

There will be plenty of candidates in the race this year for nomination on the Republican ticket, and the indications are that the fight will be short and sweet, as a majority of the candidates favor an early primary, and as they are most interested, the county executive committee always sets the date to suit a majority of them.

The late primary was tried once, but did not prove a success, as the warm weather seemed to have a damaging influence on the voters and they failed to turn out. The candidates this year will undoubtedly urge that the primary be held the latter part of March, or not later than the first part of April.

A number of candidates who have been consulted state that they would like to have the date fixed some time between the 1st and 10th of April, and it is probable this will be the time fixed.

This will give all the candidates a chance to get over the county at least twice and it will not drag the canvass out over several months.

SECURED POSSESSION OF HER CHILD AT CUMBERLAND.

On last Thursday while Mrs. James Johnson, of this city, was visiting her sister in New Cumberland she saw her six-year-old son, Willie McElfresh, on the street and picked him up and carried him across the river to Freeman's station. She learned after crossing the river that the grandfather was in pursuit and she walked from there to Empire with the child and boarded the train for her home in this city.

Mrs. Johnson was granted a divorce from John McElfresh some time ago and was given the custody of her three minor children, as the court records will show. When the parties separated the mother was taken ill and she let the father take the little boy. After the divorce was granted the father refused repeatedly to let the mother see her boy, and this is the reason she took the action she did.

Mr. Johnson called at this office this morning and stated that the action of his wife was taken after she had consulted attorneys in this city and New Cumberland, and that she now has possession of the child and proposes to keep him.

PRESIDENT.

THEODORE PRYOR HAS BEEN PAROLED

The Man Who Killed a Negro
Deckhand In This City Is Released From

1898 While the Ben Hur
Was Tied In Here.

TWO OTHER LIVERPOOL PAROLES

Before closing their session this morning the Ohio reformatory managers unanimously elected Prof. James
A. Leonard, of Youngstown, O., to be superintendent of the reformatory to succeed Superintendent Sefton, whose resignation takes effect February 15.
Prof. Leonard has resided at Youngstown for some years, where as a young man he worked as an employe of the rolling mills. He was graduated from Mt. Union college, Alliance,
and was principal in one of the Youngstown schools for some years.
Later he was an inspector of the government schools for Indians and in recent years has been in charge of the Rayen training school in Youngstown.
He is about 45 years of age and has a wife and two daughters. He is a member of the Methodist church and is an ordained local minister in that church.

The board considered a number of other matters in connection with the institution, among them the feasibility
of making a reduction of expenses. To this end it was decided that when the board's contract with L. S. Lake,
the farm superintendent, expires the
salary of that position shall be reduced
from $1,000 to $600 per year.

It was also decided to abolish the office of superintendent of grounds,
a position which has been filled by Guard George W. Batton, who has been connected with the institution almost continuously since the time it was opened. It is also said the managers
have concluded to reduce the number
of guards by six or more, so that the total annual reduction of expenses will
be about $8,000 a year.

The following prisoners were pa-
roled:

Theodore Pryor (conditional), Co-
lumbiana county, manslaughter; Jas.
M. Hollen, Hamilton county, burglary
and larceny; John Berry, Cuyahoga
county, burglary and larceny, paroled
August 2, 1899, returned January 1900;
William Carroll, Cuyahoga county,
robbery; Charles Nelson, Columbiana
September 18, 1899; Edward Hausel-
man, Columbiana county, burglary, attempted to escape September 18, 1899;
James Boone, Butler county, cutting
to wound; Charles Baldwin, Pickaway
county, burglary and larceny; Frank Peterson (conditional), Cuyahoga
county, forgery; Jacob Weinstein,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; Meyer Rosenthal, Cuyahoga
county, horse stealing; Frank Lenz,
Cuyahoga county, burglary and larceny; George Tims, Hamilton county,
forgery; Sanford Webb, Scioto county, cutting to wound; Harley Foltz,
Stark county, burglary and larceny;
James Campbell (conditional), Stark
county, burglary; John Wilson, Port-
age county, burglary; James Youtsey,
Van Wert county, burglary and larceny; Walton Brown, Montgomery
county, burglary; Charles Moore,
Licking county, manslaughter; Robert Clifford (conditional), Mahoning count, burglary; Louis Kirtley (conditional), Mahoning county, grand larceny; Emmett Smith, Wood county,
burglary and larceny, escaped January
10, 1898, returned April 25, 1898;
George Carrier, Franklin county, burglary and larceny, paroled October 20,

Told by the Clothes Horse

When a woman looks at the clothes on the clothes horse, and sees how quickly they are wearing out, she gets discouraged. A better thing to do is to stop using soap with alkali in it.

Walker's Soap

CONTAINS NO ALKALI

and saves the clothes. Look for the rooster on the wrapper; that certifies it's the genuine. At all dealers.

Questions for Women

Do you have periodical pains? Do you have frequent backaches? Are you nervous? Are you continually exhausted? Do you suffer every month? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions you are suffering from ills which Wine of Cardui cures.
Do you appreciate what perfect health would be to you? After taking Wine of Cardui, thousands like you have realized it. Wine of Cardui insures freedom from female diseases. At each recurring menstrual period, if care be not taken, slight ailments will appear.
Nervous strain, loss of sleep, cold or indigestion start disorders
which are not noticeable at first, but day by day steadily grow into troublesome complications. Wine of Cardui, used just before the menstrual period, will keep the female system in perfect condition and render it invulnerable to disease. The medicine is taken quietly at home. There is nothing like it to help women enjoy good health. Wine of Cardui costs only $1. Test this remedy, which is indorsed by 1,000,000 cured women.

WINE OF CARDUI

Cairo, Ky., Sept. 6, 1899.

I take pleasure in writing a few lines in praise of your wonderful medicine, Wine of Cardui. It is the best medicine I ever heard of. I am thirty-six years old and have been sick all my life.
I had a dozen doctors, but none of them did me any good. I have taken one bottle of Wine of Cardui and will take another with Black-Draught. I have been married six years and have a baby five years old. I had womb and kidney trouble. My monthly period was so bad that sometimes it came twice a month. I was too sick to do work for a family of three. I was in bed when I got the bottle of Wine of Cardui. Now I am up and can do most of my work. When I was sick I could not sleep at night. I sleep
Draught with Wine of Cardui.

giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

1899, returned January 10, 1900; Ernest Hill (conditional), Montgomery, burglary and larceny.

The three prisoners from Columbi-
from this city.

Theodore Pryor was sent up for killing Thomas Kelso, alias Henry Clark,
a deck hand on the Ben Hur. When
the boat tied in at this port Pryor
hit Clark over the head with a club,
killing him instantly.

Edward Hanselman and Charles
Nelson were implicated in numerous
burglaries in this city.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1900.

INGRATITUDE.

Base ingratitude is one of the very meanest and abhorrent characteristics in the human makeup. The man who robs his friend is utterly unworthy of the name of man. The viper, you know, stung the hand that rescued it from death and warmed it back into life.

WEST POINT.

The closer the lines are drawn about the witnesses in connection with hazing at West Point, the more outrageous appears the conduct of the young fellows who took part therein. The nation at large will stand back of the officials who are investigating the matter, and will demand that justice be done.

COMMON DRUNKS.

And they are becoming very common in this city of East Liverpool. Two blackguards, so drunk that they could scarcely stand, made themselves conspicuous last night at the corner of Washington and Broadway, and the language they openly made use of was simply abominable.

KENTUCKY.

The dark and bloody ground of Kentucky still keeps up its record of mob law and rioting. It is high time that a stop shall be put to such disgraceful proceedings. If the state authorities will not or cannot control the ruffians who appeal to the shotgun and dynamite policy, then the federal authorities should step in, and the officers and soldiers of the regular army be given instructions to let the toughs have a surfeit of shooting. Lawlessness and crime may be taught a lasting lesson in this great republic.

OUR CIRCULATION.

The circulation of the News Review is constantly growing. And the best of all is that it is voluntary growth on the part of our subscribers, and is a paid circulation, the proprietor receiving cash in hand every night for the same from his agents. The raw paper, wholesale, costs a purchaser about 20 cents a hundred. And yet there is a sheet in this city which advertises its old papers at 5 cents a hundred; papers printed, ready for the readers, if they want to read it. And this comes under the head of what some people term circulation. Peculiar circulation, is it not? Evidence of a weakly paper.

NEVER SAY DIE.

A righteous cause need never despair. God stands back of the right always, ready to come to the aid and relief of the people, when that people demonstrates the fact that they "hunger and thirst after righteousness." The saloons at Manila have not been closed. The masses in this nation are not ready for them to close. The saloons on this side of the ocean have not yet been closed. The people are not yet ready to have them closed. Please God, the time is not far distant when they will be closed. That time will come when politicians face an outraged public, and go down to utter and ignominious defeat; when they recognize the fact that no whisky advocate or backer can have an office as the gift of the people. We must rise to the emergency. God's wrath will speak out against this nation if it does not rise and destroy the whisky and rum traffic.

A FAIR DEAL.

A fair and square deal, in your business transactions with your fellows, pays every time. Falsehood, chicanery and low cunning may seemingly win; but the hand of justice and right will grasp the throat of the trickster, cheat and falsifier and make him cry out in despair. Say swindler, do not imagine that you will prove any exception to the rule. A stern Nemesis is on your trail. You would better repent ere disgrace fastens upon your life, and destroys you in time and in eternity.

THE ARMY BILL.

The army bill passed, as expected. We would not dare, as patriots and lovers of country, to go back on our boys in the Philippines. Humanity demands that the rebellion in Luzon shall be crushed out. Under the rule of the United States, the Filipinos will be immeasurably better off than if they were permitted to attempt self government. Spanish rule, with all its cruelty and blood thirstiness, would be as child's play were Aguinaldo and his savage Tagalos permitted to have supreme control of the islands. And every student of history, combined with every man and woman of good sense, able to read and reason, knows that if the United States were to give up the Philippines, and leave the Filipinos to themselves, that some one of the other nations would step in and assume control and ownership. It is the bounden duty of the government of the United States to hold her grip in the Philippines; and it is the bounden duty of this government to throttle and wipe out the saloon and the liquor traffic in the Philippines; and may our God speed the day.

OUR JOB OFFICE.

Our job office is running to the limit, keeping our boys hustling. Good work and good material, and courteous treatment, and goods on deck when promised, tells the story of our success. The unionists of this city, men who are unionists from the standpoint of principle, are believers in fair play; and they know that the manager of this paper is a life-long unionist, always ready to give and take, and ready to counsel and advise with fair men and true unionists; and the best and truest unionists in this city, men who have been connected with the printing craft for long years, will testify, in open court, or before any union body, that so-called union men in this city, men posing as leaders of unionism, have acted in an outrageous, unholy and ungrateful manner with the manager of this paper, until he has been compelled, from a business standpoint and in self-defense, to clear the deck and enforce discipline, and block out incompetency, shiftlessness and laziness. This testimony can be adduced at any time. If you want first-class job work, at reasonable prices, turned out by unionists from center to circumference, men who show by their work and actions that they believe in a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, call at the News Review office and leave your orders. If any politician in this county fears to get his cards printed at this office, let that politician ask the officials of the Republican executive committee of Columbiana county what they think of the honesty and veracity of the man who is circulating the report that the News Review is an unfair office; and then come and see Manager Palmer, and he will give you indisputable proof that the delectable individual referred to is a falsifier of the meanest and lowest grade, and that the News Review is a full union office, in every particular, without the shadow of reproach against its unionism.

Men, Women, Children.

Shoes for men, women and children. Prices cut all to pieces. We are closing out, and you are very foolish if you do not save money. We have shoes for your whole family, including the baby. We must be out of this by February 15, 1901. Come and see us at once.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,

DOUBT CANNOT EXIST.

Investigation Will Only Strengthen the Proof We Give in East Liverpool.

There must be something stronger than imagination behind expressions of such representative citizens of East Liverpool as Mr. Robert McNewell, carpenter, of West Fifth street, who says: "If every one receives the same results as I from the course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills, my advice is, go to Larkins' drug store, procure a box, take them according to directions and the results will inevitably follow. One box effected a cure in my case, the particulars of which I will only be too pleased to give to any one personally calling upon me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Shoes for Men.

They are splendid goods, None better made. Latest styles and fashions, manufactured by the most famous shoe manufacturers in the country. We will save you nice money on every pair you purchase of us. We must be out of this February 15, 1901. Be wise and buy at once.

A MID-WINTER CAMPMEETING

The Services at the Salvation Army Barracks Will Commence
This Evening.

THE HALL IS DECORATED

With Pines and Evergreens and Presents a Very Handsome Appearance.

The Salvation Army mid-winter campmeeting will open this evening and the meetings promise to be very successful.

The barracks on Fourth street present a very handsome appearance, and when one enters the hall they can without any trouble imagine they had been transferred to a grove. The hall is decorated with pines and evergreens and in all parts of the room are trees.
On the platform is a very handsome arch of trees and evergreen.

At the service tonight Mrs. Staff Captain Oscott, of Columbus, will be present and conduct the services. She will also be present and conduct the meetings tomorrow. She is very eloquent and is well worth hearing.

Lieutenant Colonel R. E. Holz, in command of the Salvation Army in Ohio and the south, and Adjutant C.
H. Straubel, the well known soloist of Cleveland, will be here for Wednesday night, January 23.

Major and Mrs. Dubbin will arrive in the city on Saturday, January 26, and will conduct the meetings over Sunday.

Services will be held every night while the meetings are in progress.

THAT SOMEBODY HAD ABDUCTED
HIS WIFE.

The Story of an East Liverpool Couple Who Now Reside in Cleveland.

The Cleveland papers of yesterday print the following interesting story in regard to well known East Liverpool people:

Mrs. Mollie C. Sellers, formerly of East Liverpool, has disappeared from her home at No. 96 1/2 Muirson street, Cleveland, and her husband, George Sellers, thinks she has been abducted.
The woman disappeared on Monday and the police and detectives of Cleveland have been working on the case ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left East Liverpool about 18 months ago and have since been living in Cleveland. They have one child, two years old. They were married three years ago. Sellers is a cooper by trade.

On last Monday Mrs. Sellers told her husband that on Monday she intended to go to a dyeing establishment on Euclid avenue to have a coat cleaned and repaired. He replied "All right."

When Sellers came home in the evening his wife said that she had been to the place, but that the woman she desired to see was not in and that she would return between 7 and 8 o'clock to see her.

During the evening meal the husband and wife chatted gaily. After supper he lay down on the lounge and his wife attended to her duties, afterwards playing with the baby.

At 7:45 Sellers called the attention of his wife to her engagement and said that she had better go, as it was getting late. She put on her hat and coat, kissing her husband and baby, she started out.

On the sidewalk she threw a kiss to husband and baby, who had opened a window to watch her. At Muirson and Superior streets she turned and waved at them. This is the last that was seen of Mrs. Sellers.

Investigation at the Euclid avenue establishment disclosed the fact that Mrs. Sellers has called in the afternoon, but not in the evening.

The sequel to the story was given today in which it was stated that Mrs.
Sellers turned up in Judge Kennedy's court with James Hogan on a charge of being intoxicated. She was given a lecture and left the court with her husband.

PENTECOSTAL MEETINGS.

They Will be Conducted for the Next Ten Days in the First M. E.
Church.

"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation, unto every one that believeth."

The readers of the News Review will find the above quotation in the first chapter of Romans. Evangelist Smith took it as his text last night, in the presence of a fine audience at the First M. E. church, and the remarks of the speaker went home to the hearts and consciences of his hearers, as was fully evidenced by the intense quietness and close attention paid him.

The evangelist spoke of the wonderful mercy of God, as exhibited through the atonement, and then spoke of the awful wrath of God, illustrating by the destruction of Sodom and Gomorah, characterizing the destruction of those cities as mere profiles, and painting, in word pictures, the awfulness of the wrath to come, asserting that it made him heartsick to be compelled to do so, but that his duty as a man of God compelled him to cry aloud unto sinners and sound the note of warning, in order to clear his own skirts of blood guiltiness.

The speaker said he abhorred sensational preaching, and had no desire to scare men and women, as the term now is; but he did desire to show unto sinners, by the authority of the Word of God, and upon the word of the blessed Jesus, that the wrath of God is an awful feature for unrepentant humanity to face.

The after meeting was one of intense interest, there being ten adults at the mercy seat. The evangelist will conduct the services tonight, and he will preach at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. on Sunday, January 20. The present series of meetings will last at least ten days, and may be continued for an indefinite period.

There will be a grand rally or mass meeting at 2 p. m. on Sunday. You have a warm invitation to be present.

"That said board shall not reduce
the value of the real property of the county (city) below the aggregate value thereof, as fixed by the state board of equalization, nor below its aggregate value on the tax duplicate
of the preceding year, to which shall be added the value of all new entries
and new structures over the value of those destroyed as returned by the several township assessors for the current year; provided, further, that except as to new structures and structures destroyed and lands and lots appearing on the tax list since the preceding decennial board of equalization,
the annual county board shall not increase or reduce the valuation of any real estate, except in cases of gross
inequality, and then only upon reasonable notice to all persons directly interested and an opportunity for fair
hearing of the questions involved."

Courts of this state have passed
upon and construed these sections in the cases cited in the 47th Ohio state
reports, page 447, 56th Ohio state reports, page 34, and 9th Ohio circuit court reports, page 98, the conclusion of the court in each case being that the city annual board of equalization
may equalize the values of specific parcels of real estate in all cases
where gross inequality in such values
exists, upon giving reasonable notice
to all persons directly interested in the same, and upon an opportunity being given for a fair hearing of the questions involved.

In such cases and under such circumstances they may raise values of such real estate as has been appraised
too low, and lower such as has been appraised too high—in all cases preserving the aggregate amount returned by the city decennial board of equalization.

Nor does it follow that the annual
city board, which meets in the spring,
should wait for complaints of property owners before taking action in this most important matter.

The parties most aggrieved are largely from the poorer classes—the owners of individual homes and not able to incur expense in order to obtain their rights. The board shall take the initiative, and the city council of East Liverpool should see to it that the board of equalization to be appointed next spring is instructed to inquire into these cases of unfair appraisal and to see that the same are adjusted with fairness to all classes of property and upon an equal basis of values. If the local authorities of East Liverpool, by which I mean the city council, and the coming annual board of equalization act promptly and energetically, each case of inequality can be readily adjusted.

Trusting that in this opinion I have fully answered the inquiries suggested by your letter, I remain,

Yours truly,

J. H. BROOKES,
Prosecuting Attorney.

Progress of Our Cities In the New Century.

City Development on Practical Lines.
By John DeWitt Warner.

In attempting to anticipate what "reforms" we may expect in municipal matters during the next century, experience warns us that, while in some details they may be so radical and novel as to make that name appropriate, they will, in the main, be such that they would be more accurately termed "developments."

Taking up at random the matters with which city authorities are now busy: Artificial light has for centuries been recognized as a necessity of civilized man and public order. It is, therefore, rapidly and certainly coming to be regarded as a want which should be directly met by the municipality; and it is as nearly certain as may be, first, that public control, and, in general, public operation of city light operation of city light plants will prevail. And we are tending rapidly toward a similar policy as to heat.

As to present facilities: not merely will clean, dry and spacious streets be the rule, but systems of subway transport will probably be more extensive than are now surface ones; while, both above and under ground, the rate of transport will be such as to approach a free supply. That is, fares will be so low, as compared with other factors in the use of cars, that these self-same factors, and not expense, will determine their use by each. It is probable that, as in the case of water, the expense of individual supply, so free as not to limit use, will be fully met by fares so petty as to be scarcely more than required to prevent waste; and the operation by the city of these "moving highways" will become as much a matter of course as is now the repair and preservation of our streets for pedestrians. The whole field of express service will be so extended as to provide not merely messenger service much more complete than now, but for the safe carriage and prompt delivery to any part of the municipality of articles deposited at any other part. Telephone service also will be correspondingly cheap and abundant.

One result of increased transport and communication facilities will be the growth of public kitchens, where shall be prepared the meals of most of our citizens, which they will receive ready served, of better quality, and more promptly and regularly, than the

It is not easy to predict how shall be solved the problem of manual labor by married women. Whether with better wages and cheaper living they will be in general relieved of other cares than those of wife and mother? or whether, with more of opportunity for self-support and partially relieved from present home duties, the number of wage earners among married women will increase? It is practically certain, however, that the right of every child to good care, nurture and education will be better protected with every decade; that day nurseries will be one of the public facilities soon provided as a matter of course; and that labor which takes mothers from their children will be permitted only in cases where proper care of all children below school age is definitely provided for.

Public baths so nearly free as to be habitually used by all and so numerous and extensive as to leave such use unlimited, will be as much a matter of course as sufficient air for breathing. Still greater relief, not merely to the poor, but especially to those of moderate and large means, will result from such a complete system of hospitals that, by 2000, for one who is ill that he cannot go about, to remain at his residence will be as unusual as a hundred years since it was universal. In every considerable city, education, to the fullest extent of the capacity of its youth, will be literally free as air, and, up to what would now be considered a high standard, made quite compulsory in one way or another.

And long before the year 2000 taxation will have been so adjusted as to encourage, not discourage, the fullest improvement of land; public franchises will be so universally operated direct by the public, that a street railway company or private water works for public supply will seem as archaic as personal government by royal charter, of the farming of taxes.

FIENDS FOUND GUILTY.

Jennie Bosschietter's Murderers
Were Convicted.

Judge Thanked the Jurors—He Pronounced It a Just Verdict The Maximum Penalty Under the New Jersey Law Is Life Imprisonment.

New York, Jan. 19.—Walter C. McAllister, Andrew J. Campbell and William Death, three of the four persons indicted for the murder of Jennie Bosschietter, of Paterson, N. J., who was murdered on the night of Oct. 13 last, were adjudged guilty of murder in the second degree. They were accused of assaulting the girl, after chloral had been administered by McAllister while the party were drinking liquors. According to the New Jersey law the maximum penalty for the prisoners is life imprisonment. The jury took 14 ballots, after which the judge and prisoners were summoned into the court room. The prisoners appeared very nervous.

When the verdict was announced the prisoners exhibited neither elation nor relief.

Judge Dixon thanked the jury and said he believed the verdict a just one. He then dismissed the jurors until Monday morning. The court then rose and the prisoners were taken back to the jail.

THREE SHOTWELLS JAILED.

Militia Restored Order at Corbin, Ky.
Funerals of Two Innocent Victims,
Also of James Shotwell.

Corbin, Ky., Jan. 19.—State militia took control here and steps were taken by Colonel R. D. Williams, commanding, to check the disorders growing out of the killing Wednesday evening of James Shotwell by Raleigh White. White was arrested Thursday and taken to Williamsburg jail. Sheriff Sutton and his deputies in charge of the prisoner were attacked en route by friends of the Shotwells, but no one was wounded. Friends of the Shotwells paraded the streets Thursday night and preparations were, it was alleged, under way for a pitched battle between the two factions.

Troops were ordered out and when they arrived Friday three sons of James Shotwell were placed under arrest. Under a strong guard they were taken to Williamsburg jail, where White is confined. They will be charged with intimidation.

Friday afternoon funeral services were held over Miss Susan Cox, Sutton Farris and James Shotwell, while the militia paraded the streets to prevent an outbreak. Miss Cox and Farris were killed Wednesday evening by stray shots from a volley fired by unknown persons into the ruins of a building, where White had gone after shooting Shotwell, and which was dynamited by unknown persons.

FUNERAL OF MOUNT.

Body Viewed by Public at the Indiana Capitol.

Indianapolis, Jan. 19.—Surrounded by many of the decorations that added brilliancy and splendor to the inauguration of his successor, the body of former Governor Mount, who died suddenly Tuesday night, lay in state at the capitol.

A battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery assembled at the state house, moved to the Denison hotel and acted as an escort for the procession to the capitol.

A guard of honor was formed about the bier, the south and north doors of the capitol were opened and the public began to pass through.

Later the body was borne to the First Presbyterian church, where funeral services were held. Later the body was taken back to the state house, where it lay in state again.

Later the body was carried back to the Denison hotel. Today it was to be carried by special train to Crawfordsville for interment.

Captain George Tuckerman Dead.

Jamestown, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Captain George S. Tuckerman, a former editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, died here, aged 76 years. Captain Tuckerman was an officer of Burden's sharpshooters during the war and later as a corporation counsel of New York city.

The Pen in the Hand is worth two in the Mind.

If you have "a good mind to write to Dr. Pierce" take pen in hand and begin. Then you'll avoid the experience of Mrs. M. P. Davis, of Honaker, Russell Co., Va. She writes:

"For seven years I was confined to bed most of the time. I had ulceration of internal organs and female weakness. I had four doctors and they said I could not be cured. After the doctors said I could not be cured I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. I followed the advice he gave. I feel better than I ever did. My friends say I do not look like the same woman. I am sorry I did not take Dr. Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humbugs."

No one ever regretted writing to Dr. Pierce for advice. Many have regretted not writing sooner.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free, and so obtain the opinion and advice of a specialist in diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Ambassador White Appeared in Behalf of President McKinley—Emperor Remembered the Dead.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—United States Ambassador White presented to Emperor William the congratulations of President McKinley on the bicentenary of the coronation of the first king of Prussia, Frederick I. The presentation was made during the court reception, which was held in the Knights hall at the Schloss, after the newly-appointed knights of the Order of the Red Eagle, the royal Order of the Crown and the royal Order of the House of Hohenzollern had been presented to the emperor and empress. During this ceremony the princess stood at the right of the throne and the crown prince, with the other princes, at the left. Both the emperor and empress spoke pleasantly to Ambassador White. Later their majesties received deputations from East Prussia.

Divine service was held in the Schloss chapel, all the guests at the reception being present, and later luncheon was served in the Schloss. Ambassador White and the other foreign representatives who had presented congratulations to the emperor being present, as were also the visiting princes and the new knights. Emperor William and the empress attended the luncheon.

At one time the emperor visited the Sieges Allee and the mausoleum at Charlottenburg and deposited wreaths on the monument of King Frederick I. and the coffin of Emperor William I.

PURSUING SAME AIMS.

Russian Paper Said Policies Indicated
Russia and America Were Following Same Lines.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—Referring to the Washington advices to the effect that the United States is disposed to exercise its good offices with the view of bringing about the settlement of the Chinese question The Novoye Vremya, probably inspired, emphasized the frequent accord between the United States and Russia, whose "declarations from the beginning and common action in withdrawing their troops show that they are pursuing the same aims."

The paper continued in part: "To avoid sowing discord among the diplomats, Russia did not then raise the question whether further operations were necessary."

The Novoye Vremya concluded its statements, diplomatically yet suggestively, saying:

"Now, however, as the note has been ratified the conditions have so completely changed that should the United States make the friendly proposals suggested, we would not, probably, be wrong if we supported them."

While the diplomatic feeding had not been interrupted and the above question had not been formally discussed between the two cabinets, it was known here that Russia was earnestly opposed to further military operations in China.
